Capone Permitted to Withdraw Plea of Guilty

JUDGE WILKERSON RESERVES DECISION ON PROHIBITION CONSPIRACY PLEA

TRIAL OF INCOME TAX CASE IS SET FOR SEPTEMBER 8

Chicago, July 31.—(U.P.)—Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson today permitted attorneys for "Scarface" Al Capone to withdraw the gang leader's plea of guilty in the income tax case but reserved decision on the prohibition conspiracy plea until Sept. 8.

Judge Wilkerson upset pre-arranged plans to rule on the case this afternoon by calling Capone, his attorneys, members of the federal grand jury and government prosecutors into court this morning.

Trial on the income tax case was set for Sept. 8.

Capone was not in court, although ordered in by the judge. U. S. marshals were unable to find him on such short notice. His attorneys, however, were on hand.

The liquor conspiracy case, charging 5,000 violations, was ordered resubmitted to the federal grand jury for return of indictments providing a higher penalty than that provided on a conspiracy charge.

Defense Attorney Michael Ahern intimated that Capone was insistent upon a change of venue from Judge Wilkerson.

"Personally, I am confident that your honor is unprejudiced and capable of arriving at a just decision," Ahern said, "but our client (Capone) feels that he is being badly treated."

"Well," retorted Wilkerson, "you know what can be done about that."

He apparently was referring to a change of venue.

Judge Wilkerson said he could not believe that the conspiracy case was brought "without probable cause."

His statement follows:

"In the income tax cases, the motion to withdraw the plea of guilty is granted. As the cases are to be tried, the interests of justice require that there be no further comment on the proposed recommendations or the arrangement that was attempted for it. The case is set for trial September 8.

"As to the conspiracy case, the ruling (on the motion to withdraw guilty pleas) is reserved and the motion taken under advisement for disposition September 8.

"The matters covered by the (conspiracy) indictment should be presented to another grand jury as the enumeration of overt acts the defendant and others are charged with covers substantial offenses within the period of the statute of limitations for which a heavier penalty is provided than that under the conspiracy indictment.

"The court will not believe, unless it is forced to do so, that the language of this indictment was chosen without probable cause merely for the purpose of creating the impression that this defendant had been a flagrant law violator over a long period of time.

"This is a matter which must be inquired into fully."

Judge Wilkerson read his statement after a conference in chambers with Leopold Melnik and Michael Ahern, Capone's attorneys; U. S. District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, Johnson's assistants, Victor Larue, Dwight H. Grene, Jacob I. Grossman and Samuel Clawson; William Froelich, sent from Washington to aid the Capone cases; A. P. Madden, chief of the intelligence unit here; and a number of investigators.

In addition to Capone, Thomas Nash, the third of his attorneys, was missing.

ELK RIVER HAS GOLDEN JUBILEE

ON CARTS CREAK ALONG THE STREETS, FLOATS DEPICT RISE OF THE TOWN

Elk River, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Ox carts creaked along the streets again today as floats depicted the rise of this Mississippi river town during the second day's celebration of its golden jubilee.

The floats, which were prepared by local civic groups and merchants, passed in review down the main street.

Residents of Sherburne county and Minneapolis were guests of honor today. W. M. Babcock, curator of the Minnesota Historical Society, will address the thousands who have thronged through festooned streets at a mass meeting at the fair grounds this afternoon.

The Little Falls semi-professional baseball team will play the Northern Pacific nine at 3:30 P. M. as the athletic feature of the second day.

In the natural amphitheater on the Mississippi's banks, "The Drama of Sherburne County" will be repeated. It was performed by local actors for the first time last night.

VETERAN BOATSMEN CLAIM MISSISSIPPI FLOWING BACKWARD

Red Wing, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Veteran boatmen today claimed the Mississippi river was flowing backward for the first time in history.

They explained that the river was so low that water coming down one half of the divided channel near here encountered a sandbar and actually flowed back some distance in the other half. Islands were appearing in all parts of the river.

Traffic was almost at a standstill as barges and excursion boats stayed in ports rather than risk being stranded on sandbars.

ROCKEFELLER CONTROLLED COAL CO. CUTS WAGES

PREPARES "WITH GREAT RELUCTANCE" TO PUT ORDER INTO EFFECT

"FORCED BY COMPETITIVE CONDITIONS" TO TAKE SUCH ACTION

Denver, Colo., July 31.—(U.P.)—The Rockefeller controlled Colorado Fuel and Iron Company which two months ago was "opposed to any reduction of wages of mine workers at this time," prepared today "with the greatest reluctance" to cut coal miners' wages 16 per cent.

Its miners are not United Mine Workers. Its wage scale under the proposed cut would be reduced from $6.25 to $5.25 daily. A statement by the company said the reduction was "forced by competitive conditions."

The Rocky Mountain Fuel Company, the only unionized corporation among the larger producers, has in force a wage scale about $1 a day higher than the non-union scale. Its contract with the United Mine Workers has a year to run and under it wages may be reduced when cut by a certain percentage of other operators.

The C. F. & I. action, in view of wage disputes in other coal fields, has resulted in speculation over what may happen in this field where in 1914 state militia fired into groups of striking miners, killing many men, women and children. The recent declaration against wage cuts had been hailed as a reversal of policy since that Ludlow massacre.

"The action of the company was taken with the greatest reluctance," John C. M. Hamilton, secretary of the C. F. & I., said later.

"Our company was one of the last to make a reduction and did so only because it was forced to such action by competitive conditions, and the general situation in the coal industry."

The quarterly statement of the company, issued last Tuesday, showed a loss of $636,276.01 on operations for the first half of 1931, as compared with earnings of $1,681,053.53 in the same period last year.

The C. F. & I. is the largest coal producer in Colorado. Thousands of miners will be affected by the cut. The company operates mines in a score of locations in Colorado and Wyoming and is said to be among the largest holders of coal lands in the world. It also operates a large steel plant at Pueblo, Colo. The present wage cuts, however, will not affect the steel workers, it was understood.

COOLIDGE MAY BE CANDIDATE IF HE IS DRAFTED

St. Paul, July 31.—(U.P.)—The St. Paul Dispatch today in a copyrighted story quoted Col. James F. Coupal, former White House physician and personal friend of Calvin Coolidge, as saying that the former president will be a 1932 presidential candidate if he is "drafted."

The Dispatch quoted Col. Coupal as saying, "Mr. Coolidge will run for president in 1932 if the people of this country evince an unmistakable and unquestionable desire to draft him to pull the country out of this period of depression and if he can have the presidency without any political or other obligations attached to it."

Post and Gatty to Make No More World Flights

Newark, N. J., July 31.—(U.P.)—Wiley Post and Harold Gatty, who left today to continue their tour of the country, denied they would make another flight around the world if Hugh Herndon, Jr., and Clyde Pangborn break their record.

When informed of a statement attributed to F. C. Hall, backer of their flight, that they would make another world flight, Gatty said, "No, we won't do that—not this year, anyway."

AMERICAN PLANE TRAVELED 4,995.9 MILES, BREAKING COSTES' MARK

PANGBORN AND HERNDON, JR. LEAVE MOSCOW FOR SIBERIA

Paris, July 31.—(U.P.)—The Boardman-Polando flight to Turkey was officially declared today to have set a new distance record.

An announcement by the International Aeronautic Federation said the American plane had travelled 6045 kilometers (4,995.9 miles), breaking Dieudonne Costes' record of 4,912 miles by more than the requisite 62 miles.

By J. D. QUIRK (United Press Correspondent)

Istanbul, Turkey, July 31.—An examination of the trans-Atlantic monoplane Cape Cod was to be made by Russell Boardman this afternoon to determine if it fit to carry out "further flight plans."

The nature of the plans was kept secret. It was believed, however, that they were for a continuation of Boardman's flight with John Polando around the world, in an air race with Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr.

Moscow, July 31.—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., hurrying on their record-breaking attempt around the world, left at 4:20 P. M. today for Siberia.

The fliers made only a brief halt here, making up some of the time they were behind Post and Gatty, and planned a long jump into Siberia to make up further time.

Herndon and Pangborn stayed in Moscow only five and a half hours, whereas Post and Gatty remained 11 and a half hours. When Herndon and Pangborn departed today, they were 11 hours and 40 minutes behind the Post-Gatty record.

Moscow, July 31.—A long hop from Moscow, possibly as far as Irkutsk, Siberia, was planned today by Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., to help them catch up on the round-the-world record schedule of the Post-Gatty flight.

The landing here was smooth. Both fliers were cheerful and anxious to refuel and depart again as soon as possible. They reported they had fought head winds all the way from Berlin.

Despite the fact prospects did not seem bright for beating the Post-Gatty time, they insisted they were determined to beat the recent record. By extending the length of their stages they hoped to raise their average speed.

DENTISTRY PRICES, SURGICAL WORK LOW IN THE CONGO

Baltimore, Md., July 31.—(U.P.)—Here are some prices prevailing in the Belgian Congo:

Filling a tooth—three cents. Pulling a tooth—one cent. Appendix operation—three dollars.

The quotations were reported by Dr. Robert King, missionary, who has just returned after 16 years in the Congo.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION CHOICE NARROWS

3 CANDIDATES W. T. COX, JOHN I. LEVIN AND PARKER O. ANDERSON

WM. E. McEWEN, DULUTH, WAS TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN AT MEETING YESTERDAY

St. Paul, July 31.—(U.P.)—Selection of Minnesota's new conservation commissioner apparently had narrowed down to three men today.

The five members of the commission appointed by Governor Floyd B. Olson announced that they had called the following candidates for interviews next Tuesday:

W. T. Cox, former state forester, who has done notable conservation work in South America during recent years.

John I. Levin, conservation expert and chief clerk of the Minnesota house of representatives during the past session.

Parker O. Anderson, the University of Minnesota farm's forestry expert. Matters of general policy were discussed yesterday by the five members of the commission. Dr. Raphael Zon, director of the lake states experimental station, University farm, told members three fields should first be attacked in their efforts. They were he said:

1. Unification of forestry, game and fish agents.

2. Modernization of Minnesota's present "haphazard" system of battling forest fires.

3. Building a conservation program on the foundation of the state's $87,000,000 annual tourist industry.

William E. McEwen, Duluth labor publication editor, was temporary chairman at the meeting and it was understood that he probably would hold the post permanently. John Foley, Wabasha attorney, acted as secretary. Other members of the commission are Ernest Belff, St. Paul; James T. Williams, Minneapolis; and Richard Bailey, Virginia lumberman.

LINDBERGH'S NOW AT OTTAWA, CONFER WITH AVIATORS

FACE WILD TREACHEROUS COUNTRY BETWEEN HUDSON BAY AND ALASKA

PLANS TO GET ADVICE OF VETERAN FLIERS IN THIS NORTH COUNTRY

By MAX BUCKINGHAM (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Ottawa, Ont., July 31.—(U.P.)—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, facing the wild, treacherous country between Hudson Bay and Alaska, on their 7,000 mile air vacation trip to the Orient, remained here today to confer with fliers familiar with the country's rugged characteristics.

"We will not leave today," the flier said. He indicated he might announce later when the trip will be resumed.

The famous couple arrived here at 4:33 p. m. EST. yesterday after covering the 380 miles from North Haven, Me., the summer estate of Senator Dwight W. Morrow, in three hours and 23 minutes. The trim seaplane came down to a graceful landing on the choppy waters of the Ottawa river after dipping down in salute to the party of Canadian officials on hand to greet them.

Lindbergh and his wife were flushed and smiling. An official launch, containing Col. Hanford MacNider, the American minister, Mrs. MacNider, and Canadian officials, put out toward the spot where the monoplane was riding, but held back while Lindbergh packed away some portable gear, instruments and supplies.

Mrs. Lindbergh, wearing a white flying cap and blue shirtwaist, clambered into a small launch and waited for her husband to finish. Then they joined the official party. Mrs. Lindbergh, choosing a seat in the rear of the launch and conversing eagerly with Mrs. MacNider.

Lindbergh was asked why he had stopped in Ottawa.

"Isn't this a delightful place for an overnight stop?" he replied.

The flier planned to get the advice of those obscure but veteran aviators who have made their life work the spanning of the treacherous Hudson Bay country—regions in which explorers have starved to death and where civilization has not penetrated. These men have offered to point out the best routes to Alaska.

SUICIDE IS BLAMED TO PUBLIC CRITICISM

Correll, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Criticism of the management of the town school was blamed today for the suicide of Lynn Woods, 43, school board treasurer and Bigstone county treasurer. He was found by his wife. A son also survives. Woods was subjected to the criticism recently.

SCORES OF PICNICKERS ARE STRICKEN WITH PTOMAINE POISONING

Reading, Pa., July 31.—(U.P.)—Scores of persons who attended a picnic of the Lancaster Automobile club at Carsonia park here were stricken today with ptomaine poisoning.

At least 75 persons have reported to the emergency hospital at the park and sent to their homes in ambulances. Scores did not feel the effects of the poisoning until they reached their homes last night and today.

The picnic was attended by more than 12,000 persons from Reading, Lancaster and other nearby towns. The club president, S. Edward Gable, and his wife, were reported to have been stricken after they reached their home in Lancaster.

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE IN GEO. W. E. PERRY CASE

TESTIMONY OF 4 PERSONS EXPECTED TO COMPLETE THE STATE'S PRESENTATION

FORMER RAILROAD BRAKEMAN CHARGED WITH SLAYING BIGAMOUS WIFE

Eagle River, Wis., July 31.—(U.P.)—Testimony of four persons today was expected to complete the chain of circumstantial evidence upon which prosecutors based their pleas that George W. E. Perry be sentenced to life imprisonment for the honeymoon death of one of his six illegal wives.

Eleven witnesses were questioned yesterday and Special Prosecutor A. J. O'Melia said the state would rest after calling four more. Perry's attorney, John Dolan, said presentation of defense testimony would be completed in about 15 minutes.

Perry, 40-year-old former railroad brakeman, is charged with shooting Mrs. Cora Belle Hackett-Perry while they were honeymooning at Lac Du Flambeau last July. A huge crowd, mostly women, thronged the courtroom yesterday for a glimpse of the one-eyed Romeo accused of marrying seven women in rapid succession. Mrs. Hackett was said to be his third wife.

Chief witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Parker at whose home Perry and his bride lived. Both testified that the couple went for a walk through the woods on July 6, 1930, and Perry carried a gun. The husband returned alone, Mrs. Parker said, with a story that his wife had met friends and would meet him three days later. He returned the gun, Parker said, with the comment:

"That's a good shooting gun."

Mrs. Perry's body was found on the shore of the lake six months later by Harry St. Germaine, Indian forester, who was the first witness called.

FOREST FIRE HAZARD REDUCED

RAINS AND COOL WEATHER ARE THE MITIGATING FACTOR

St. Paul, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—The forest fire hazard has been greatly reduced during the past few days by cool weather and rains. G. M. Conzet, state forestry commissioner, said today on his return from an inspection trip of the fire areas in the northern part of the state.

Many of the fires in St. Louis county are out, the rest of the blazes there and in Koochiching county under control, he said.

About 1,000 acres of timber have been burned over in Superior National Forest in the Greenwood lake fire, which has covered nearly 4,000 acres 40 miles north of Two Harbors, he said.

If temperatures remain low, and there are no high winds, conditions will remain about normal, Conzet said.

FINGERPRINTS TAKEN OF TWO INDIANS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

International Falls, July 31.—(U.P.)—Finger prints of John Blain and John Findlay, Indians held on charges of killing two other Indians during a shooting brawl near here Saturday night, today were being forwarded to the bureau of criminal apprehension, St. Paul. They were taken by Sheriff Hugh Reidy.

ERRORS ALLEGED IN THE DECISION OF LOWER COURT

DISTRICT COURT HELD ACT INVALID IN SPITE OF GOV. OLSON'S VETO

HEARINGS ON CASE WILL BE BEFORE SUPREME COURT

SEPTEMBER 8

St. Paul, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Alleged errors in the court decision holding the redistricting of Minnesota valid despite Governor Floyd B. Olson's veto were before the state supreme court today.

An appeal of the decision of Judge Gustavus Loevinger of Ramsey county district court was filed late yesterday by Representative John A. Weeks and former Attorney General George T. Simpson, lawyers for W. Yale Smiley, Minneapolis.

Hearings on the case will be before the supreme court Sept. 8.

The petition contends that "injustice" is done Minneapolis and other sections of the state through the proposed congressional redistricting. It said that the districts were not compact, not equal in population and not fair.

"It is fair to say that the geographer who envisaged the third district in the plan under consideration never heard of the word 'compact,' or, if he did, he wilfully disregarded it; for, starting in Washington county on the eastern border of the state, it winds its serpentine way southwest into Goodhue county, north into Carver county, northeast into Hennepin county and north into part of the city of Minneapolis, thus almost entirely surrounding Ramsey county and the fourth congressional district," the petition said.

"Again, in the formation of the seventh congressional district the same, or a more flagrant abuse of the mandate of the statute is apparent. Including Big Stone and Traverse counties on the western border of the state, this district also includes part of Hennepin county and the city of Minneapolis on the eastern border of the state."

The petition also said that Governor Olson's signature was necessary to make the law valid. If the supreme court holds the law is not valid, Minnesota's nine congressmen in 1932 will have to be elected at large or a special session of the legislature called.

BETHLEHEM STEEL CORPORATION STOCK SPURTS AT START

BLOCK OF 5,000 SHARES JUMPS 1 3-8 POINTS AT MARKET OPENING

U. S. STEEL ALSO MOVES UP FRACTIONALLY, OTHER STEEL SHARES FIRMER

By ELMER C. WALZER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, July 31.—Bethlehem Steel Corporation spurred 1 3-8 to 36 5-8 on a block of 5,000 shares at the opening of a firmer stock exchange list today.

The impetus for the buying in Bethlehem was the result of the directors meeting yesterday after the close when the dividend was halved to $2 annually, a move rather better than anticipated.

U. S. Steel opened at 86 1-4 on 2,500 shares and then moved up fractionally. Other steel shares were firmer than recently. Oils were mixed; utilities firm; coppers about steady and motors higher. A drop of 4 points to 28 in Nickel Plate followed omission of the dividend on common and preferred of that road. New York Central dipped 1 1-8 to 75 1-8 on fears the present $6 annual dividend could not be maintained.

J. I. Case broke to a new low for the year at 58 1-4 off 2 1-4. Selling in this issue was urgent near the close yesterday. Traders unloaded in anticipation of a lowered dividend following action of Deere & Co., in omitting its payment. Deere, which also makes harvester machinery, reported lower earnings as a result of the depleted purchasing power in the agricultural districts.

PRES. HOOVER, WIFE GO TO RAPIDAN CAMP

NEGRO IS HANGED ON MURDER CHARGE

Shreveport, La., July 31.—(U.P.)—Benny White, 22-year-old negro, was hanged in the Caddo parish jail today. The trap was sprung at 12:11 p. m. White was sentenced to death for the slaying of two negroes in July, 1930.

Off to Blaze Trail to Orient

With the same nonchalance which characterized his take-off for Paris four years ago, Colonel Charles E. Lindbergh, accompanied by Mrs. Lindbergh, took off from New York for Washington on the first leg of their projected trail-blazing flight to the Orient. The famous couple of the air is shown in insert as they amicably smile for the photographer just before skimming off in their powerful poison-equipped Lockheed Sirius low-wing monoplane. The aerial act of the Lindberghs headed for Washington, with the imposing New York skyline in the background, is one of the best ever taken.

July 31, 1906

Mrs. Charles O'Conner of 103 Ash Avenue N. E. and four of the family had a narrow escape from death yesterday from poisoning. They were taken sick shortly after dinner and became rapidly worse. Dr. Nicholson was summoned about 4 o'clock and found Miss Maggie O'Conner and Miss Alice O'Conner very sick. Mrs. O'Conner, Miss Lizzie O'Conner and James O'Conner were sick but less severely so. They had all eaten dinner and had partaken heartily of smoked ham, potatoes, bread and butter, etc., so that it is rather hard to be certain as to the cause. The symptoms resembled salsy acid poisoning, but from what Dr. Nicholson is unable to state. The remaining man will be submitted to the authorities for examination and analysis. They are all out of danger and nearly as well as ever today.

Joe Weitzel and the Misses LeMay had a strenuous and somewhat exciting experience Sunday night. They were on the road toward North Long Lake and when passed the residence of Mr. Merrick flames were issuing from the building. Mr. Weitzel aroused Mrs. Merrick and the children, who were asleep in the house, Mr. Merrick being in Brainerd. After getting them out they turned their attention to saving the building, the Misses LeMay carrying water while Joe climbed onto the building and fought the flames. They succeeded in saving the house with only nominal damage. Had they not happened along just as they did the house would have certainly been destroyed and the inmates might have perished also.

The following is the result to date of the vote for Carnival Queen in the Eagles' contest: Mrs. C. H. Kylo, 1675; Mayme Peters, 1690; May O'Brien, 1490; Mrs. Sam Adair, 1386. The contest closes this evening at 6 o'clock.

The Stratton hotel has been reopened by George Rappel, Jr. Mr. Rappel will be in charge of the hotel.

SLEEVES ACQUIRE SOME IMPORTANCE

Sleeves are interesting and important enough to write volumes about these days. Every couturier not only has his, or her, own idea about them but the word idea is in the plural where all of them are concerned, says an authority.

They have no one length or type this summer—that is certain. The long and the short of it, according to Paton, goes something like this: Printed silk or crepe from the elbow to the cuffs, fitting the arm rather snugly. The fullness in the tucking is released after an inch and the ruffle falls to midway between the elbow and the wrist.

This short sleeve is simplicity itself. It strikes the arm when finished halfway between the shoulder and the elbow and has only a three-inch cuff put on very much like a man's shirt cuff, but instead of cuff links the ends that come together are made into tiny pleats.

Maggie Rouff has made a "dancing" sleeve that is delightful. It has a run of six parallel tucks just above the elbow and from there on the under side it falls in cascades almost to the wrist. At the inside of the elbow it is short and lined with white. The white extends further than the outer layer and when the arms are lifted in dancing the effect is everything to be desired.

JOHNSHOY IN AN ATTACK ON GAARENSTROM

SAID HE WAS TRYING TO DISRUPT WORK OF RURAL CREDIT BOARD

THAT HE IS GROSSLY INCOMPETENT, TOO MUCH POLITICS

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—H. M. Johnshoy, recently resigned secretary of the state rural credits bureau, today accused C. F. Gaarenstrom, chairman, of trying to disrupt the work of the board.

Gaarenstrom issued a general denial of Johnshoy's statements soon after he received a copy of them.

In his statement Johnshoy charged:

1. That Gaarenstrom is attempting to discredit the bureau so that it will be discontinued,

2. That he is grossly incompetent, has attempted to play political football with the bureau and has refused to apply himself to his work, being more interested in politics than in the operation of the bureau.

3. That he has interfered with various forms of the work and has evidenced a total disregard of the interest of the farmers of the state.

4. That he has attempted to "dump" the more than 1,900 farms now owned by the bureau, which would have depressed farm values all over the state and brought ruin to thousands of farmers.

5. That Gaarenstrom is only a publicity seeker.

Johnshoy resigned at the request of Governor Floyd B. Olson after an argument with Gaarenstrom over bureau policies precipitated an open quarrel.

GRAF ZEPPELIN RETURNS TO BASE, FRIEDRICHSHAFEN

MADE A REMARKABLE FLIGHT OVER ARCTIC WASTES NEAR THE NORTH POLE

ENTIRE VOYAGE WAS PROSAIC AND UNEVENTFUL JOURNEY

Friedrichshafen, Germany, July 31.—The Graf Zeppelin returned to its home base today after a remarkable flight over Arctic wastes near the North Pole.

The big dirigible was sighted over the airport at dawn, its familiar long, slender hull sliding rapidly through the gray skies toward its graceful landing. It came down at 4:52 A. M., without incident.

The entire flight over areas which in only very recent years man required months to traverse was regarded as remarkable because of its uneventfulness. The Graf Zeppelin—veteran of a world cruise and numerous trans-Atlantic flights—sped away one day last week for the north, swiftly overtook the icebreaker Malygin near Franz Josef Land, moved on into the Arctic, then came back.

Last Words

Last words of dying persons are like the mutterings in a delirium. Why then are they so treasured? asks Dr. J. Shelton Horsley in an article in Hygeia Magazine. The melodramatic picture of relatives hovering over a deathbed is based on the wrong conception. Last words are of no value when they come from a mind benumbed by approaching death. It is better to remember the words spoken while the person was in a healthy mental and physical state.

PATENTED PROCESS FOR ROASTING COFFEE EXPLAINED

Hills Bros. Roast Their Coffee Evenly, Continuously . . . "a Little at a Time"

The ordinary way of roasting coffee is in big drums that contain several hundred pounds. This has disadvantages, for it is not possible to roast each batch alike. One may be underdone—another overdone. As a result, you do not always get the best flavor—frequently, you get different flavors.

Hills Bros.' patented, Controlled Roasting process overcomes these things! As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. Automatically controlled heat gives every berry an even, perfect roast. The finest flavor results. It is a flavor no other coffee has—no other coffee is roasted this way.

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it ever-fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary, "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

and Herndon on behalf of Oscaviakim, the Soviet Society for Aviation and Chemical Defense, and escorted them to the Grand Hotel.

They arrived at 11:52 A. M. (2:52 A. M. CST.) from Berlin. Reckoning from the time Post and Gatty left Moscow, Pangborn and Herndon were 17 hours behind, with a correspondingly difficult task if they are to establish a new time record.

Post and Gatty remained in Moscow 11½ hours and Pangborn and Herndon hoped that their comparative departure time would show a gain on that of their predecessors.

Unlike Post and Gatty, who refused any stimulant, Pangborn and Herndon both drank vodka and enjoyed it. In fact, they asked for some soon after their arrival.

A typical Russian "light luncheon"

Kurgan, Russia, July 31.—Miss Amy Johnson, en route from England to Tokio, left here for Omsk this morning. She arrived in Kurgan yesterday afternoon from Sverdlovsk.

Paris, July 31.—The ministry of air announced prizes totaling 1,000,000 francs (about $39,250) for the aviator recapturing for France the world's straight-line distance record. It formerly was held by Dieudonne Costes, until broken by Russell Boardman and John Polando in their New York-to-Istanbul flight.

Joseph Lebrun was expected to make an attempt at the record before winter, while Costes went to endeavor to set a new mark as soon as his "tank plane" has undergone necessary modifications.

HIGHWAY PATROL GIVEN ADDED POWER

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—Members of the state highway patrol today were given authority to aid the bus and truck division of the state railroad and warehouse commission.

The authority was contained in an opinion handed down by Attorney General Henry N. Benson, in which he held that the patrolmen have the power to arrest operators of auto transportation companies running vehicles in Minnesota without public liability and property damage insurance approved by the commission.

The patrol, under the direction of Superintendent Earle Brown, is expected to supplement the work of the bus and truck division operatives.

hoy, recently resigned secretary of the state rural credits bureau, today accused C. F. Gaarenstrom, chairman, of trying to disrupt the work of the board.

Gaarenstrom issued a general denial of Johnshoy's statements soon after he received a copy of them.

In his statement Johnshoy charged:
1. That Gaarenstrom is attempting to discredit the bureau so that it will be discontinued,
2. That he is grossly incompetent, has attempted to play political football with the bureau and has refused to apply himself to his work, being more interested in politics than in the operation of the bureau.

3. That he has interfered with various forms of the work and has evidenced a total disregard of the interest of the farmers of the state.

4. That he has attempted to "dump" the more than 1,900 farms now owned by the bureau, which would have depressed farm values all over the state and brought ruin to thousands of farmers.

5. That Gaarenstrom is only a publicity seeker.

Johnshoy resigned at the request of Governor Floyd B. Olson after an argument with Gaarenstrom over bureau policies precipitated an open quarrel.

GRAF ZEPPELIN RETURNS TO BASE, FRIEDRICHSHAFEN

MADE A REMARKABLE FLIGHT
OVER ARCTIC WASTES NEAR THE NORTH POLE

ENTIRE VOYAGE WAS PROSAIC AND UNEVENTFUL
JOURNEY

Friedrichshafen, Germany, July 31.
—The Graf Zeppelin returned to its home base today after a remarkable flight over Arctic wastes near the North Pole.

The big dirigible was sighted over the airport at dawn, its familiar long, slender hull sliding rapidly through the gray skies toward its graceful landing. It came down at 4:52 A. M., without incident.

The entire flight over areas which in only very recent years man required months to traverse was regarded as remarkable because of its uneventfulness. The Graf Zeppelin—veteran of a world cruise and numerous trans-Atlantic flights—sped away one day last week for the north, swiftly overtook the icebreaker Malygin near Franz Josef Land, moved on into the Arctic, then came back.

Last Words

Last words of dying persons are like the mutterings in a delirium.
Why then are they so treasured? asks
Dr. J. Shelton Horsley in an article in Hygeia Magazine. The melodramatic picture of relatives hovering over a deathbed is based on the wrong conception. Last words are of no value when they come from a mind benumbed by approaching death. It is better to remember the words spoken while the person was in a healthy mental and physical state.

PATENTED PROCESS FOR ROASTING COFFEE EXPLAINED

Hills Bros. Roast Their Coffee
Evenly, Continuously . . .
"a Little at a Time"

The ordinary way of roasting coffee is in big drums that contain several hundred pounds. This has disadvantages, for it is not possible to roast each batch alike. One may be underdone—another overdone.
As a result, you do not always get the best flavor—frequently, you get different flavors.

Hills Bros.' patented, Controlled Roasting process overcomes these things! As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow . . . a little at a time . . . so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously . . . a little at a time. Automatically controlled heat gives every berry an even, perfect roast. The finest flavor results. It is a flavor no other coffee has—for no other coffee is roasted this way.

Hills Bros. Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it ever-fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is removed and kept out of these cans. Ordinary "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros. Coffee can't go stale.
Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

him, the Soviet Society for Aviation and Chemical Defense, and escorted them to the Grand Hotel.

They arrived at 11:52 A. M. (2:52
A. M. CST.) from Berlin. Reckoning from the time Post and Gatty left Moscow, Pangborn and Herndon were 17 hours behind, with a correspondingly difficult task if they are to establish a new time record.

Post and Gatty remained in Moscow
11½ hours and Pangborn and Herndon hoped that their comparative departure time would show a gain on that of their predecessors.

Unlike Post and Gatty, who refused any stimulant, Pangborn and Herndon both drank vodka and enjoyed it. In fact, they asked for some soon after their arrival.

A typical Russian "light luncheon"

was served, comprising four kinds of fish and fowl, an omelet for dessert and an assortment of drinks.

Spencer Williams, representing the American-Russian Chamber of Commerce, made a speech of welcome in behalf of 1,200 Americans living or working in the Soviet Union.

Kurgan, Russia, July 31.—Miss Amy
Johnson, en route from England to Tokio, left here for Omsk this morning. She arrived in Kurgan yesterday afternoon from Sverdlovsk.

Paris, July 31.—The ministry of air announced prizes totaling 1,000,000
francs (about $39,250) for the aviator recapturing for France the world's straight-line distance record. It formerly was held by Dieudonne Costes, until broken by Russell Boardman and John Polando in their New York-to-Istanbul flight.

Joseph Lebriz was expected to make an attempt at the record before winter, while Costes will endeavor to set a new mark as soon as his "tank plane" has undergone necessary modifications.

HIGHWAY PATROL GIVEN ADDED POWER

St. Paul, July 31.—(UP)—Members of the state highway patrol today were given authority to aid the bus and truck division of the state railroad and warehouse commission.

The authority was contained in an opinion handed down by Attorney General Henry N. Benson, in which he held that the patrolmen have the power to arrest operators of auto transportation companies running vehicles in Minnesota without public liability and property damage insurance approved by the commission.

The patrol, under the direction of Superintendent Earle Brown, is expected to supplement the work of the bus and truck division operatives.

ber of young lambs saved this spring was estimated as 604,000 or 85,000 more

An American Looks at Russia

SOVIET RUSSIA, with its strenuous attempt to change hand-minded millions into machine-minded men under the so-called five-year plan, presents a supreme economic challenge to the rest of the world.

Such are the conclusions of Walter Locke, editor of the Dayton, Ohio, Daily News, following a tour of the Soviet Republic. Writing under the caption "An American Looks at Russia," in the current Rotarian Magazine, he notes these facts about Russia.

Its wheat or its virgin timber lands are equal in area to the entire United States.

Its products range from the cotton of Turkestan to the furs of the Arctic.

Its present population is 162,000,000—as many people as are in the whole United States and France.

At the present rate of increase, Russia will have nearly 200,000,000 people in twenty years.

"Russia," Mr. Locke concludes, "is what it is. We could not change it if we would. We can only keep cool, and calmly adjust ourselves to whatsoever we see and foresee there."

"If Russia is to flood the world with wheat, the United States along with other nations must make plans accordingly. If Russia with its tremendous resources is to flood the world with wood and minerals and industrial goods, we must be ready to adjust ourselves to this fact."

"Russia and the United States and other nations are coinheritors of the earth. No one can escape the other. This shrunken planet must house them all."

"Can powerful peoples, with their seemingly incompatible social and economic systems, find a way to share the world in peace? Surely, no other present situation has bound up in it so much of the future fate of the world, so tough a test of common-sense."

Land Will Come Back

WE heard a man say the other day that if he owned a piece of land he would hang onto it because he felt that in spite of all that had been said in a discouraging way about land the past few years, it is the basis of value and will come back to be the most desirable investment a man can make.

Alexander Legge, former head of the Farm Board and one of the most successful business men of the country, in an address to Iowa bankers a couple of weeks ago, advised the bankers to pin their faith to land. He is quoted by the Long Prairie Leader as saying "the time is coming and it is not far distant, when land investments will be the most dependable we have in this country."

Many of those who rushed to the cities after the war, lured by high wages and easy conditions, are now wishing they had stayed back on the farm. It is true that the farmers have had a hard time, but notwithstanding, the farmer with his house to live in, his food and his living taken care of, finds himself better off than most of those who rushed to the city to make easy money. Land has always been the dependable basis of value, the foundation of prosperity and the rock upon which the business of the nation has rested.

Brainerd Enterprising

BRAINERD is already feeling the effects of junior high school construction work, billed to start next week with excavation of the basement. Teamsters have been coming to the Dispatch office to register applications for the work.

Just as building of the high school served to give work to many Brainerd people and concerns, so the junior high construction work will employ many. The decision to do excavating by teams and scrapers instead of a steam shovel will serve to further distribute employment in the city.

Whereas many a community sits Micawber-like and waits for "something to happen" to bring back prosperity, Brainerd acquires a building fund and builds at a time when it is of the most benefit to school board and town.

Other construction work of the near future is the concrete bridge of Trunk Highway No. 2 across the Mississippi, various road building jobs of state and county and water main construction and a new filtration plant of the water and light board.

Good Will Tours

THE Wadena Lions club will start their series of good will tours Friday, August 7, with the first one to be at the Allen Kallerman farm, one mile east of Central. The organization will be accompanied by the Wadena band. Besides a band concert free ice cream will be served.

Here at Brainerd no good will tours have ever attained the magnitude of the Wadena Lions plans. Good will committees of the Lions and Rotarians, and the Lions quartet have visited the farmers and nearby communities and have taken part in their farm bureau programs and other activities.

A club tour with a band and free ice cream would certainly make as favorable an impression in Crow Wing county as it will in Wadena county.

DR. RAPHAEL ZON, director of the Lake State Experiment Station, University Farm, has declared the state's present forest fire fighting system is a "haphazard" one which must be modernized to bring it to a state of efficiency. Work of the forestry, game and fish agents must be unified and state forests must be divided into units with competent men in charge to care for the development of roads, drainage, replanting of trees and supervision of timber sales.

It is odd about those Staples bandits. Two of them who gave bail in New York City have been identified by photographs as having been in the gang. It is presumed they left New York and are working through the west. Technically the men are in custody because they gave bonds, but no one knows their addresses. It reminds one of the want ads one reads stating the party who took this or that is known and please return what he took.

STRANGERS find what old-timers pass over. An Indian flint knife two and a half inches wide and seven inches long was found near the George Rardin summer cottage on Gull lake by Nels Nelson, electrician, a tourist from Chicago the past week, who discovered the relic in the sand. It is in fine state of preservation.

"MAKE-BELIEVE" by FAITH BALDWIN

Copyright, 1930, by Faith Baldwin

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Mary Lou Thurston, a beautiful and vivacious girl of the "home" type, orphaned by the death of her parents, lives with her aunt and uncle, Clara and Howard Sanderson. Mary looks after Billy, their youngest, while they go to business. Larry Mitchell, energetic, young newspaper reporter, is Mary Lou's pal. Mary Lou is happy but restless and eager for adventure. Anderson gets a wonderful chance to go to the Orient on an engineering project. Mary Lou urges the Sandersons to go although she will be stranded. Larry wants to marry Mary as a happy solution to the situation, but she convinces them they are merely good pals. The Sandersons and Mary Lou visit Mrs. Sanderson's mother, who is to care for Billy during his parents' absence.

CHAPTER V.

THE pier was exciting and Mary Lou was smitten with nostalgia, as always, for far places and strange sights, for the feel of a ship's deck under her feet, for the sound of the waves, for the vast expanse of changing color and perpetual motion which is the sea. But, presently, it was all over, and the ship had pulled slowly away and there was Clara, waving frantically with Howard beside her, and Mary Lou, despite the presence of Larry beside her—and he was holding her hand tightly, a fact of which she was unconscious—despite the hundreds of strangers there, milling about, waving, calling farewells, felt very much alone, very forlorn, as if she were the only person left in an altered and suddenly inimical world.

Larry took her to a hasty luncheon, for he had to get back to the office, and tried to cheer her up over a lavish outlay of broiled chicken, but her appetite had failed her and she was glad somehow to go back by subway to the empty, echoing house, there to wait for the last moving van, to turn the key in the lock and to surrender it to the agent of the owner. By the time this was done it was evening, and she went next door to the kindly woman who had offered to take her in, and, refusing supper, went straight to bed in that terribly strange room.

Silver Lining.

Health and youth and tears, shed quietly into a pillow, soon plunged her fathoms deep into sleep and when she woke to streaming morning sunlight, somehow things didn't seem as bad. It was over, she had no more home, she might as well face it. Anyway, she'd see Billy, that endearing rascal, today; she could make herself useful to Grandma Jennings and she would try to listen with what patience she could muster to the never ending tale of Aunt Adelaide's aches and pains. And, too, Larry would come out to see her, while surely, surely adventure waited just around this particularly difficult corner!

Youth is elastic and Mary Lou had enough vitality for ten girls. She ate enough breakfast for two, anyway, being very hungry, to her great astonishment, and after bidding Mrs. Davis goodbye set out for the station and Oakdale with a small handbag and a large stock of regained optimism.

The first few days passed off quietly enough. There was some special coming to be done. Aunt Adelaide had taken to her bed for one of her periodical rest cures, despite the fact that for years she had never done anything save rest, while Billy had to be adjusted to the new school and the new mode of living. And Mary Lou had her hands full, writing out a diet list for the little boy and pinning it up in the kitchen, certain as she was that Grandma Jennings would feed him pickles on the sly if not severely discouraged.

She walked a lot when she was free and let the cold, frosty November wind blow some of the cobwebs from her brain. And on the first Saturday she went to town for lunch and a motion picture with Larry and also, recklessly, from her small store, bought herself a new hat. "There's nothing as good for the blues," said Mary Lou, "as a new hat, even when you can't afford it! Especially when you can't afford it!"

Hanging Fire.

"But," she told Larry, "I'll have to have that job soon. I can pay a little—not much—to Gram. She doesn't want to take that, bless her. But Adelaide's a big expense. Larry, I wish you could see that woman eat! It's amazing! And I can't trespass long on their hospitality. I'd like to get settled somewhere, if the space is only two by four. I haven't unpacked in Oakdale; there isn't room even for the few things I have, my books and pictures, the possessions I've always had with me at Clara's and love so much and miss so much. Of course, I can stay at Gram's or get a room in the village, which would be cheaper than living in New York, and I'd be near Billy."

Larry arrived in Oakdale and found Mary doing her simple washing.

She looked at him anxiously, sure of his understanding. "Don't worry," said Larry. "I'm reading all the help wanted columns and I'm asking around. . ."

After a moment Mary Lou said, meekly: "I am fairly intelligent after all. Clara asked her old employer—Mr. Fiske—if I couldn't get in the publishing house as a reader or something. But there wasn't an opening then. Still, if you came across something like that, Larry, it would be wonderful. Nothing with typing and such. Not until I've had a chance to go to night school and learn, for that's what I intend to do, you see, as soon as I find some sort of paying position. But I have enough sense to read manuscripts, I hope, and to know what is good and what is bad and what is impossible. Larry, how about my being a reporter?" she asked, on a sudden inspiration, her blue eyes shining.

"Oh, God forbid!" replied Larry devoutly. "Hold everything, girl, and don't give up the ship! Uncle Larry will provide."

Three days later, in the middle of the afternoon, when he was supposed to be somewhere else, Larry arrived in Oakdale and found Mary Lou doing her simple washing in the lean-to laundry. He dragged her from her tubs, with her hands covered with soap, and waved a newspaper in her face.

"A job," cried Larry, "and it looks like a corker. Companion to some rich invalid or other and oodles of salary and a swell residence. Cease your laundering, my lass, and listen to me! For tomorrow you must apply and be quick about it."

He dragged her, still soapy, out of the laundry and into the living room. They were quite alone, as Mrs. Jennings was upstairs with Adelaide and Billy was playing next door.

Shoving Mary Lou unceremoniously into a chair, Larry thrust the newspaper into her dripping hands and commanded happily.

"Read it and leap!"

Larry's enthusiasm seemed to affect even his gray red hair, for it stood literally on end, due to the vigorous thrust of his hand through it, and Mary Lou, catching fire, felt her heart beat faster and her eyes mist with excitement as she looked at the neat little advertisement Larry had marked for her with bold, colorful slashes of editorial blue pencil. Perhaps it was because of her suddenly dimmed sight that she had to read it twice, three times, before she spoke. Larry, meantime, stood before her in an absurdly belligerent attitude, his hands now shoved into his pockets, and watched her parted lips and the color which flushed her cheeks and the shadow cast by her long dark lashes.

Opportunity Knocks.

"Wanted" (she read) "companion for semi-invalid. Must be young, strong, healthy, optimistic. Must have sense of humor. Must have pleasant voice and be able to read aloud well. Knowledge of French and music desirable. Complete surrender to circumstances necessary and even disposition. Athletic training, love of sports also essential. Excellent salary, beautiful surroundings, permanent position. Apply in person. Lorrimer, Westmill, Connecticut."

"Well?" asked Larry, impatiently, teetering on his heels.

Mary Lou looked up from her third reading of this most unusual want ad.

"Well!" she answered on a long breath, echoing Larry, yet with an astonished, almost dubious echo, contrasting oddly with his crisp inquiring utterance.

"What's the matter with the girl?" Larry asked the atmosphere. "Has she been struck dumb or something? Ain't it grand, Miss Thurston? I ask you! What could be more perfect? Get a load if this, if it hasn't penetrated!"

And snatching the paper from her still damp little paw he proceeded to read the advertisement through, with stops, pauses and intonations guaranteed to impress the most unenthusiastic.

Newest Vogue in Music From Glamorous Tahiti

Reri and Miri, "Glorified" South Sea Belles, Introduced Native Melodies That Promise to Sweep the Country.

VINCENT LOPEZ and RERI

It seems that the country is about to enjoy a new sensation in music. Cuban rhumbas and danzons are scheduled for the same destination as the new forgotten, stately minuet and the more recent and energetic ragtime, and Tahitian melodies will occupy the spotlight. Tahitian music, while primitive and sensual, has a peculiar mellowness that expresses poignantly the lure of the South Seas. It was first introduced here by Reri and Miri, whom Mr. Ziegfeld brought from their island paradise as a change of scenery for the "tired business man," and enthusiastically taken up by Vincent Lopez, noted musician and orchestra leader. On the few occasions that the new music has been presented over the radio the station was besieged with requests for information about the unusual rhythms, this despite the absence of ballyhoo or publicity. Which proves that this country doesn't have to be told that music is good in order to appreciate it. It is also an indication that in a few short weeks the United States may be Tahitian-minded as far as melody is concerned.

Being Happy Fashionable

Saying one is happy seems to be the proper thing in China, according to Dr. Randolph Sailer, psychologist at Yenching university. Of 500 workers questioned, only 60 admitted that their happiness was below par, and none was a complete pessimist. Happiness is not affected by money, education or jobs, Doctor Sailer and his co-workers found. Smokers and non-smokers both were happy. And married men were happier, as a rule, than bachelors.

An American Looks at Russia

SOVIET RUSSIA, with its strenuous attempt to change hand-mind millions into machine-minded men under the so-called five-year plan, presents a supreme economic challenge to the rest of the world.

Such are the conclusions of Walter Locke, editor of the Dayton, Ohio, Daily News, following a tour of the Soviet Republic. Writing under the caption "An American Looks at Russia," in the current Rotarian Magazine, he notes these facts about Russia.

Its wheat or its virgin timber lands are equal in area to the entire United States.

Its products range from the cotton of Turkestan to the furs of the Arctic.

Its present population is 162,000,000—as many people as are in the whole United States and France.

At the present rate of increase, Russia will have nearly 200,000,000 people in twenty years.

"Russia," Mr. Locke concludes, "is what it is. We could not change it if we would. We can only keep cool, and calmly adjust ourselves to whatsoever we see and foresee there."

"If Russia is to flood the world with wheat, the United States along with other nations must make plans accordingly. If Russia with its tremendous resources is to flood the world with wood and minerals and industrial goods, we must be ready to adjust ourselves to this fact."

"Russia and the United States and other nations are co-inheritors of the earth. No one can escape the other. This shrunken planet must house them all."

"Can powerful peoples, with their seemingly incompatible social and economic systems, find a way to share the world in peace? Surely, no other present situation has bound up in it so much of the future fate of the world, so tough a test of common-sense."

Land Will Come Back

We heard a man say the other day that if he owned a piece of land he would hang onto it because he felt that in spite of all that had been said in a discouraging way about land the past few years, it is the basis of value and will come back to be the most desirable investment a man can make.

Alexander Legge, former head of the Farm Board and one of the most successful business men of the country, in an address to Iowa bankers a couple of weeks ago, advised the bankers to pin their faith to land. He is quoted by the Long Prairie Leader as saying "the time is coming and it is not far distant, when land investments will be the most dependable we have in this country."

Many of those who rushed to the cities after the war, lured by high wages and easy conditions, are now wishing they had stayed back on the farm. It is true that the farmers have had a hard time, but notwithstanding, the farmer with his house to live in, his food and his living taken care of, finds himself better off than most of those who rushed to the city to make easy money. Land has always been the dependable basis of value, the foundation of prosperity and the rock upon which the business of the nation has rested.

Brainerd Enterprising

BRAINERD is already feeling the effects of junior high school construction work, billed to start next week with excavation of the basement. Teamsters have been coming to the Dispatch office to register applications for the work.

Just as building of the high school served to give work to many Brainerd people and concerns, so the junior high construction work will employ many. The decision to do excavating by teams and scrapers instead of a steam shovel will serve to further distribute employment in the city.

Whereas many a community sits Micawber-like and waits for "something to happen" to bring back prosperity, Brainerd acquires a building fund and builds at a time when it is of the most benefit to school board and town.

Other construction work of the near future is the concrete bridge of Trunk Highway No. 2 across the Mississippi, various road building jobs of state and county and water main construction and a new filtration plant of the water and light board.

Good Will Tours

THE Wadena Lions club will start their series of good will tours Friday, August 7, with the first one to be at the Allen Kallerman farm, one mile east of Central. The organization will be accompanied by the Wadena band. Besides a band concert free ice cream will be served.

Here at Brainerd no good will tours have ever attained the magnitude of the Wadena Lions plans. Good will committees of the Lions and Rotarians, and the Lions quartet have visited the farmers and nearby communities and have taken part in their farm bureau programs and other activities.

A club tour with a band and free ice cream would certainly make as favorable an impression in Crow Wing county as it will in Wadena county.

DR. RAPHAEL ZON, director of the Lake State Experiment Station, University Farm, has declared the state's present forest fire fighting system is a "haphazard" one which must be modernized to bring it to a state of efficiency. Work of the forestry, game and fish agents must be unified and state forests must be divided into units with competent men in charge to care for the development of roads, drainage, replanting of trees and supervision of timber sales.

It is odd about those Staples bandits. Two of them who gave bail in New York City have been identified by photographs as having been in the gang. It is presumed they left New York and are working through the west. Technically the men are in custody because they gave bonds, but no one knows their addresses. It reminds one of the want ads one reads stating the party who took this or that is known and please return what he took.

STRANGERS find what old-timers pass over. An Indian flint knife two and a half inches wide and seven inches long was found near the George Rardin summer cottage on Gull lake by Nels Nelson, electrician, a tourist from Chicago the past week, who discovered the relic in the sand. It is in fine state of preservation.

"MAKE-BELIEVE" by FAITH BALDWIN

Copyright, 1930, by Faith Baldwin

Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Mary Lou Thurston, a beautiful and vivacious girl of the "horse" type, orphaned by the death of her parents, lives with her aunt and uncle, Clara and Howard Sanderson. Mary looks after Billy, their youngster, while they go to business. Larry Mitchell, energetic, young newspaper reporter, is Mary Lou's pal. Mary Lou is happy but restless and eager for adventure. Anderson gets a wonderful chance to go to the Orient on an engineering project. Mary Lou urges the Sandersons to go although she will be stranded. Larry wants to marry Mary as a happy solution to the situation, but she convinces him they are merely good pals. The Sandersons and Mary Lou visit Mrs. Sanderson's mother, who is to care for Billy during his parents' absence.

CHAPTER V.

THE pier was exciting and Mary Lou was smitten with nostalgia, as always, for far places and strange sights, for the feel of a ship's deck under her feet, for the sound of the waves, for the vast expanse of changing color and perpetual motion which is the sea. But, presently, it was all over, and the ship had pulled slowly away and there was Clara waving frantically with Howard beside her, and Mary Lou, despite the presence of Larry beside her—and he was holding her hand tightly, a fact of which she was unconscious—despite the hundreds of strangers there, milling about, waving, calling farewells, felt very much alone, very forlorn, as if she were the only person left in an altered and suddenly inimical world.

Larry took her to a hasty luncheon, for he had to get back to the office, and tried to cheer her up over a lavish outlay of broiled chicken, but her appetite had failed her and she was glad somehow to go back by subway to the empty, echoing house, there to wait for the last moving van, to turn the key in the lock and to surrender it to the agent of the owner. By the time this was done it was evening, and she went next door to the kindly woman who had offered to take her in, and, refusing supper, went straight to bed in that terribly strange room.

Silver Lining.

Health and youth and tears, shed quietly into a pillow, soon lulled her fast into a deep sleep and when she woke to streaming morning sunlight, somehow things didn't seem so bad. It was over, she had no more home, she might as well face it. Anyway, she'd see Billy, that endearing rascal, today; she could make herself useful to Grandma Jennings and she would try to listen with what patience she could muster to the never ending tale of Aunt Adelaide's aches and pains. And, too, Larry would come out to see her, while surely, surely adventure waited just around this particularly difficult corner!

Youth is elastic and Mary Lou had enough vitality for ten girls. She ate enough breakfast for two, anyway, being very hungry, to her great astonishment, and after bidding Mrs. Davis goodbye set out for the station and Oakdale with a small handbag and a large stock of regained optimism.

The first few days passed off quietly enough. There was some special canning to be done. Aunt Adelaide had taken her bed for one of her periodical rest cures, despite the fact that for years she had never done anything save rest, while Billy had to be adjusted to the new school and the new mode of living. And Mary Lou had her hands full, writing out a diet list for the little boy and pinning it up in the kitchen, certain as she was that Grandma Jennings would feed him pickles on the sly if not severely discouraged.

She walked a lot when she was free and let the cold, frosty November wind blow some of the cobwebs from her brain. And on the first Saturday she went to town for lunch and a motion picture with Larry and also, recklessly, from her small store, bought herself a new hat. "There's nothing as good for the blues," said Mary Lou, "as a new hat, even when you can't afford it!" Especially when you can't afford it!"

Hanging Fire.

"But," she told Larry, "I'll have to have that job soon. I can pay a little—not much—to Gram. She doesn't want to take that, bless her. But Adelaide's a big expense. Larry, I wish you could see that woman eat! It's amazing! And I can't trespass long on their hospitality. I'd like to get settled somewhere, if the space is only two by four. I haven't unpacked in Oakdale; there isn't room even for the few things I have, my books and pictures, the possessions I've always had with me at Clara's and love so much and miss so much. I—I just must get settled. Of course, I can stay at Gram's or get a room in the village, which would be cheaper than living in New York, and I'd be near Billy."

Larry arrived in Oakdale and found Mary doing her simple washing.

She looked at him anxiously, sure of his understanding. "Don't worry," said Larry. "I'm reading all the help wanted columns and I'm asking around."

After a moment Mary Lou said, meekly:

"I am fairly intelligent after all. Clara asked her old employer—Mr. Fiske—if I couldn't get in the publishing house as a reader or something. But there wasn't an opening then. Still, if you came across something like that, Larry, it would be wonderful. Nothing with typing and such. Not until I've had a chance to go to night school and learn, for that's what I intend to do, you see, as soon as I find some sort of paying position. But I have enough sense to read manuscripts, I hope, and to know what is good and what is bad and what is impossible. Larry, how about my being a reporter?" she asked, on a sudden inspiration, her blue eyes shining.

"Oh, God forbid!" replied Larry devoutly. "Hold everything, girl, and don't give up the ship! Uncle Larry will provide."

Three days later, in the middle of the afternoon, when he was supposed to be somewhere else, Larry arrived in Oakdale and found Mary Lou doing her simple washing in the lean-to laundry. He dragged her from her tubs, with her hands covered with soap, and waved a newspaper in her face.

"A job," cried Larry, "and it looks like a corker. Companion to some rich invalid or other and oodles of salary and a swell residence. Cease your laundering, my lass, and listen to me! For tomorrow you must apply and be quick about it."

He dragged her, still soapy, out of the laundry and into the living room. They were quite alone, as Mrs. Jennings was upstairs with Adelaide and Billy was playing next door.

Shoving Mary Lou unceremoniously into a chair, Larry thrust the newspaper into her dripping hands and commanded happily.

"Read it and leap!"

Larry's enthusiasm seemed to affect even his gray red hair, for it stood literally on end, due to the vigorous thrust of his hand through it, and Mary Lou, catching fire, felt her heart beat faster and her eyes mist with excitement as she looked at the neat little advertisement Larry had marked for her with bold, colorful slashes of editorial blue pencil. Perhaps it was because of her suddenly dimmed sight that she had to read it twice, three times, before she spoke. Larry, meantime, stood before her in an absurdly belligerent attitude, his hands now shoved into his pockets, and watched her parted lips and the

ST. LOUIS TEAM HOLDS ADVANTAGE OF 9 GAMES OVER NEW YORK GIANTS

EVEN IF THEY SLACKEN PRESENT PACE, ARE ASSURED OF THE PENNANT

By LEO H. PETERSEN (United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, July 31.—The St. Louis Cardinals are threatening to make the 1931 National League pennant race as much of a run-away affair as the Philadelphia Athletics made the present campaign in the American circuit. Holding an advantage of nine games over the New York Giants, their nearest rivals, the Cards have all but sewed up their second consecutive championship. Even if they slacken their present pace and win 30 of their remaining 55 games, they practically are assured of the pennant.

And there has been nothing in the play of the Giants, Cubs and Robins to indicate that they are capable of piling up the winning streaks necessary to overhaul Gabby Street's crew.

The Cardinals increased their leadership a full game yesterday when they defeated Chicago 10 to 3 while Pittsburgh was taking the measure of the Giants, 9 to 0. They were the only National League games scheduled.

Burleigh Grimes and Collins combined their talents to set back Chicago. Grimes registered his 13th triumph of the season while Collins accounted for five of the St. Louis runs with four hits in as many times at bat.

Larry French yielded but four hits in shutting out the Giants. The Pirates piled up a seven-run lead off Morrell, New York rookie, in the first two innings.

The world champion Philadelphia Athletics retained their lead of 12 games in the American League by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 5, as Waite Hoyt, Detroit castoff, registered his fifth victory since joining the team.

Mickey Cochrane accounted for six of the Philadelphia runs with four hits, including two home runs, in four times at bat.

Washington defeated Cleveland 6 to 1 behind the 5-hit pitching of Carl Fischer in the other American League contest. It was Fischer's 11th victory of the season.

No other American League games were scheduled.

S. S. DROPS ONE HIT GAME TO S. E.

GO INTO LAST INNING THREE RUNS TO GOOD BUT LOSE BY 4 TO 3 COUNT

Going into the last inning with the score 3 to 0 in its favor, South Side played erratically to lose to Southeast 4 to 3 in a city league baseball game last evening.

Franks, South Side pitcher, permitted only one scratch hit in the game but still lost. Roy Schwendeman, the Southeast hurler, allowed four hits.

The downfall of South Side in the last inning is herewith described: Tibbets, first up, got the only hit for Southeast. Walt Schwendeman fled out to left field. Anderson walked. Laitala struck out for the second out. Tibbets attempted to steal third and Franks threw wild to third. Tibbets scoring and Anderson going to third. Franks made a wild pitch to the catcher on the next man up, Nelson, scoring Anderson. Franks then walked Nelson and Roy Schwendeman in succession and Aro hit a grounder to Hohman who fumbled, Nelson scoring the tying run. Franks then made a balk to first, and Roy Schwendeman was advanced from third to home for the winning run.

Tonight Northeast and Y. M. C. A. will play.

FLYING LIEUTENANT CRASHES INTO SEA

San Diego, Calif., July 31.—(UP)—For several years, Lieut. T. G. Fisher has been daring death to touch him on the shoulder. Today his body was at the bottom of the Pacific ocean somewhere off the Coronado Islands, carried down by the weight of his plane which lost its wings in midair while engaged in tactical exercises.

Lieut. Fisher had gained a nickname for himself through his many narrow escapes. His fellow naval fliers called him "the man who wouldn't be killed."

Sheer nerve had carried him through a charmed life, but yesterday, while bombarding the radio-controlled destroyer Stoddard with machine gun fire, his ship was seen to falter as it swamped in a power dive on the vessel's deck, and before he could "ball out" he crashed into the water.

Bees make their honeycomb to last for years. If it is not disturbed by man, it is handed down through many generations. It is not unusual for a comb to be in use 20 years or more if periodically cleaned and repaired by the bees.

PROGRAM AT BOYS, PREP AND GIRLS' CAMPS AT HUBERT

GIRLS START FESTIVAL AT 9:30 A. M. TOMORROW WITH FIELD EVENTS

BOYS AND PREP HAVE 110 SWING INTO ACTION AT 9 A. M.

Plans are being made for a bigger and better Water Carnival Day program this summer at Camp Lincoln For Boys. The date is Saturday, Aug. 1. Various parts of the day's program will be put on by:

Camp Lincoln where there are 80 boys from thirteen states.

Camp Lincoln Prep where there are 28 campers from five states.

Camp Lake Hubert For Girls where there are 35 girls from eight states.

Camp Lake Hubert girls will start their program at 9:30 A. M. with field events of baseball, tennis and camp craft. At 10 o'clock fourteen girls will take to their saddles for the first display of horsemanship riding on the horse shoe program. The horse show events will consist of proper mounting, the technique of handling of reins, demonstration of proper form in the riding ring at the various gaits, followed by all girls showing their ability to handle their mounts for horse show honors to be awarded by their riding master, Lieutenant R. A. Ericson of West Point Military Academy.

Following the horse show the girls will entertain the visitors and parents with a water sports program of canoeing, boating, sailing, surf riding. Swimming and diving exhibitions by the advanced swimmers will be a part of the morning program starting at 11 A. M. Miss Mildred Johnston, girl's physical director at Harding High School in Oklahoma City, Okla., has been preparing the girls for their water activities and will be in charge.

Activities at the girls' camp will close at 1 o'clock. Camp Lake Hubert girls and staff will journey to Camp Lincoln For Boys to witness the boys in action in the afternoon.

Camp Lincoln For Boys and Camp

Lincoln Prep will start their morning program at 9 A. M. with 110 swinging into action. The program will be as follows:

9 A. M.—Senior vs. Intermediate, championship ball game.

9:30 A. M.—Senior, Intermediate, Junior Camp track meet.

10 A. M.—Prep Camp field events.

10:45 A. M.—Rowboat and canoe races—Prep and Midget Camps.

11 A. M.—Morning swim consisting of 30 and 50-yard races, diving and swimming formation and stunts.

2 P. M.—Eight camp division boxing matches.

2:45 P. M.—Prep Camp vs. Midget Camp ball game.

4 P. M.—Swimming events consisting of 30, 50, 100, 220-yard races. Diving and water stunt exhibitions, American Red Cross Life Saving Class demonstrations.

5 P. M.—Two-man canoe race for silver trophy.

5:15 P. M.—Cavalry troop drill formations.

Special events:

2 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Sailing races and maneuvers.

2 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Father and son's rifle range matches.

Two hundred parents and relatives have been invited and will attend.

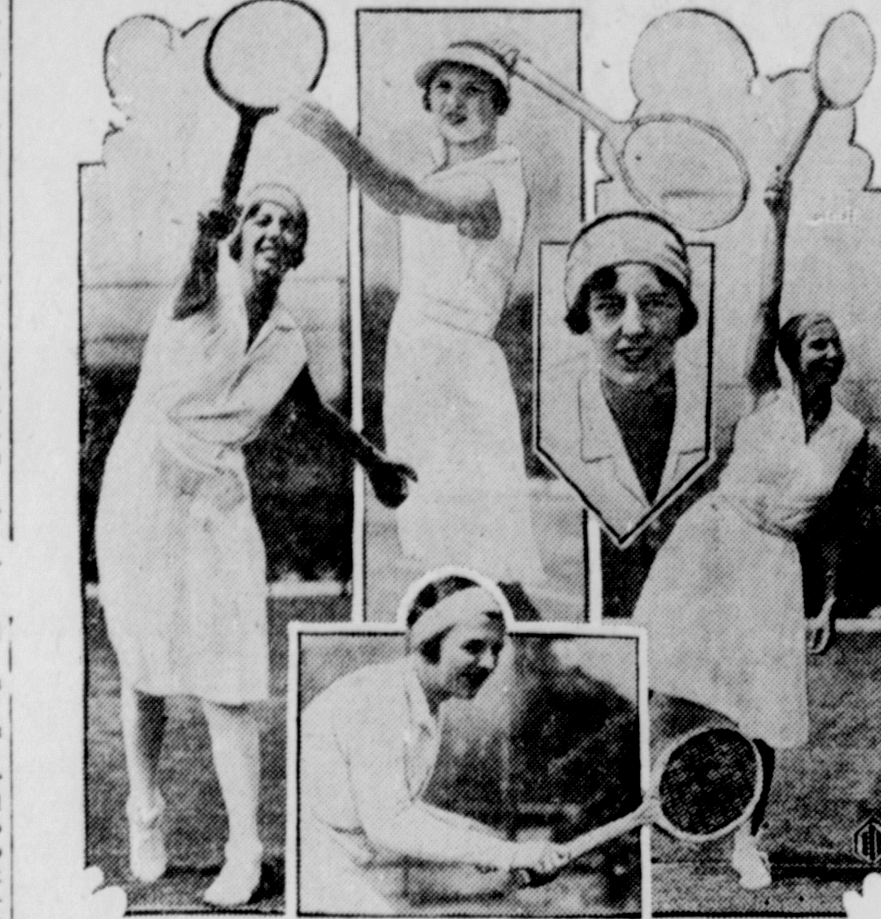

This is the one day each summer designated as "Open House" for all the people in this section desiring to see Camp Lincoln For Boys, Camp Lincoln Prep and Camp Lake Hubert For Girls in action. Everyone is welcome to see all or part of the day's program. About four hundred people spending the summer at nearby cottages and resorts are expected to attend.

The general program is in charge of R. F. Varney, program director at Camp Lincoln For Boys. Coach Niels Thorpe, famous University of Minnesota swimming coach, is in charge of the swimming and beach activity program and American Red Cross Life Saving demonstrations.

Campers participating in the camp activities will represent the following states: Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Saskatchewan and Manitoba provinces in Canada.

A huge-camp fire program is planned for the evening. Among the features of the evening camp fire will be songs and stunts put on by campers featuring their own state songs and traditions.

Prepare for Clash With U.

WARDS WIN 5-0 FROM N. P. KITTENBALL TEAM

While "Cannonball Werner" was holding the Northern Pacific kittenball team to a solitary hit at the Water Tower grounds last night his mates were collecting eight timely bingles for a 5-0 victory.

Wards are now negotiating for a five game series with the fast Camp Lin-

LONG LAKE MEETS INDIANS SUNDAY

The Long Lake ball club will play the All Star Indian team at Garrison on Sunday, August 2.

Long Lake has won all its games this season and the Indians have lost only one on their own grounds, Long Lake having beat them earlier in the season. This promises to be a fast game.

SAINTS TAKE FIRMER GRIP

MANAGE TO EKE OUT 6 TO 5 VICTORY OVER THE LOWLY BREWERS

(By United Press)

Saint Paul took a little firmer hold on first place in the American association when it managed to eke out a 6 to 5 victory over the seventh-place Milwaukee Brewers.

An eighth-inning rally which netted three runs gave Indianapolis the final game with Columbus, 6 to 5.

In the third game of the day Kansas City slipped to fourth place by taking a 5 to 1 defeat from Minneapolis.

ACE HUDKINS IS UNDER ARREST

BOXER HELD ON CHARGE OF SUSPICION OF DRIVING CAR WHILE DRUNK

Hollywood, July 31.—(UP)—Ace Hudkins, middleweight boxer, known as the "Nebraska 'ildcat," was under arrest today on a charge of suspicion of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Hudkins was lodged in the Hollywood jail last night after police said he drove his automobile into a parked car owned by Rev. Allen A. Hunter and knocked it 75 feet. The boxer was riding alone and there was no one in the parked car.

The arrest followed by a few hours the announcement that Hudkins would meet Dynamite Jackson, 200-pound negro, in a 10 round bout August 25 at the Olympic auditorium, Los Angeles.

S. S. DROPS ONE HIT GAME TO S. E.

GO INTO LAST INNING THREE RUNS TO GOOD BUT LOSE BY 4 TO 3 COUNT

Going into the last inning with the score 3 to 0 in its favor, South Side played erratically to lose to Southeast 4 to 3 in a city league baseball game last evening.

Franks, South Side pitcher, permitted only one scratch hit in the game but still lost. Roy Schwendeman, the Southeast hurler, allowed four hits. The downfall of South Side in the last inning is herewith described: Tibbets, first up, got the only hit for Southeast. Walt Schwendeman flied out to left field. Anderson walked. Laitala struck out for the second out. Tibbets attempted to steal third and Franks threw wild to third. Tibbets scoring and Anderson going to third. Franks made a wild pitch to the catcher on the next man up, Nelson, scoring Anderson. Franks then walked Nelson and Roy Schwendeman in succession and Aro hit a grounder to Hohman who fumbled, Nelson scoring the tying run. Franks then made a balk to first, and Roy Schwendeman was advancing from third to home for the winning run.

Tonight Northeast and Y. M. C. A. will play.

FLYING LIEUTENANT CRASHES INTO SEA

San Diego, Calif., July 31.—(U.P.)—For several years, Lieut. T. C. Fisher has been daring death to touch him on the shoulder. Today his body was at the bottom of the Pacific ocean somewhere off the Coronado Islands, carried down by the weight of his plane which lost its wings in midair while engaged in tactical exercises.

Lieut. Fisher had gained a nickname for himself through his many narrow escapes. His fellow naval fliers called him "the man who wouldn't be killed."

Sheer nerve had carried him through a charmed life, but yesterday, while bombarding the radio-controlled destroyer Stoddard with machine gun fire, his ship was seen to falter as it swept in a power dive on the vessel's deck, and before he could "bail out" he crashed into the water.

PROGRAM AT BOYS, PREP AND GIRLS' CAMPS AT HUBERT

GIRLS START FESTIVAL AT 9:30 A. M. TOMORROW WITH FIELD EVENTS

BOYS AND PREP HAVE 110 SWING INTO ACTION AT 9 A. M.

Plans are being made for a bigger and better Water Carnival Day program this summer at Camp Lincoln For Boys. The date is Saturday, Aug. 1. Various parts of the day's program will be put on by:

Camp Lincoln where there are 80 boys from thirteen states.

Camp Lincoln Prep where there are 28 campers from five states.

Camp Lake Hubert For Girls where there are 35 girls from eight states. Camp Lake Hubert girls will start their program at 9:30 A. M. with field events of baseball, tennis and camp craft. At 10 o'clock fourteen girls will take to their saddles for the first display of horsemanship riding on the horse shoe program. The horse show events will consist of proper mounting, the technique of handling of reins, demonstration of proper form in the riding ring at the various gaits, followed by all girls showing their ability to handle their mounts for horse show honors to be awarded by their riding master, Lieutenant R. A. Ericson of West Point Military Academy.

Following the horse show the girls will entertain the visitors and parents with a water sports program of canoeing, boating, sailing, surf riding, swimming and diving exhibitions by the advanced swimmers will be a part of the morning program starting at 11 A. M. Miss Mildred Johnston, girls' physical director at Harding High School in Oklahoma City, Okla., has been preparing the girls for their water activities and will be in charge.

Activities at the girls' camp will close at 1 o'clock. Camp Lake Hubert girls and staff will journey to Camp Lincoln For Boys to witness the boys in action in the afternoon.

Camp Lincoln For Boys and Camp

Lincoln Prep will start their morning program at 9 A. M. with 110 swinging into action. The program will be as follows:

9 A. M.—Senior vs. Intermediate, championship ball game.

9:30 A. M.—Senior, Intermediate, Junior Camp track meet.

10 A. M.—Prep Camp field events.

10:45 A. M.—Rowboat and canoe races—Prep and Midget Camps.

11 A. M.—Morning swim consisting of 30 and 50-yard races, diving and swimming formation and stunts.

2 P. M.—Eight camp division boxing matches.

2:45 P. M.—Prep Camp vs. Midget Camp ball game.

4 P. M.—Swimming events consisting of 30, 50, 100, 220-yard races. Diving and water stunt exhibitions. American Red Cross Life Saving Class demonstrations.

5 P. M.—Two-man canoe race for silver trophy.

5:15 P. M.—Cavalry troop drill formations.

Special events:

2 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Sailing races and maneuvers.

2 P. M. to 5 P. M.—Father and son's rifle range matches.

Two hundred parents and relatives have been invited and will attend.

This is the one day each summer designated as "Open House" for all the people in this section desiring to see Camp Lincoln For Boys, Camp Lincoln Prep and Camp Lake Hubert For Girls in action. Everyone is welcome to see all or part of the day's program. About four hundred people spending the summer at nearby cottages and resorts are expected to attend.

The general program is in charge of R. F. Varney, program director at Camp Lincoln For Boys. Coach Niels Thorpe, famous University of Minnesota swimming coach, is in charge of the swimming and beach activity program and American Red Cross Life Saving demonstrations.

Campers participating in the camp activities will represent the following states: Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Saskatchewan and Manitoba provinces in Canada.

A huge camp fire program is planned for the evening. Among the features of the evening camp fire will be songs and stunts put on by campers featuring their own state songs and traditions.

Prepare for Clash With U.

WARDS WIN 5-0 FROM N. P. KITTENBALL TEAM

While "Cannonball Werner" was holding the Northern Pacific kittenball team to a solitary hit at the Water Tower grounds last night his mates were collecting eight timely bingles for a 5-0 victory.

Gilmore and Schuetz did the hurling for the shop men with Grenier behind the bat.

Wards are now negotiating for a five game series with the fast Camp Lincoln outfit. They will play another shop team next week.

LONG LAKE MEETS INDIANS SUNDAY

The Long Lake ball club will play the All Star Indian team at Garrison on Sunday, August 2.

Long Lake has won all its games this season and the Indians have lost only one on their own grounds, Long Lake having beat them earlier in the season. This promises to be a fast game.

Wards are now negotiating for a five game series with the fast Camp Lincoln outfit. They will play another shop team next week.

SAINTS TAKE FIRMER GRIP

MANAGE TO EKE OUT 6 TO 5 VICTORY OVER THE LOWLY BREWERS

(By United Press)

Saint Paul took a little firmer hold on first place in the American association when it managed to eke out a 6 to 5 victory over the seventh-place Milwaukee Brewers.

An eighth-inning rally which netted three runs gave Indianapolis the final game with Columbus, 6 to 5.

In the third game of the day Kansas City slipped to fourth place by taking a 5 to 1 defeat from Minneapolis.

ACE HUDKINS IS UNDER ARREST

BOXER HELD ON CHARGE OF SUSPICION OF DRIVING CAR WHILE DRUNK

Hollywood, July 31.—(U.P.)—Ace Hudkins, middleweight boxer, known as the "Nebraska 'Hidcat,'" was under arrest today on a charge of suspicion of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Hudkins was lodged in the Hollywood jail last night after police said he drove his automobile into a parked car owned by Rev. Allen A. Hunter and knocked it 75 feet. The boxer was riding alone and there was no one in the parked car.

The arrest followed by a few hours the announcement that Hudkins would meet Dynamite Jackson, 200-pound negro, in a 10 round bout August 25 at the Olympic auditorium, Los Angeles.

RAPS COUNTY BOARD ON ROAD METHODS

County Attorney Sullivan Charges
Illegality in Letting Work and
Not Calling for Bids

CITES TWO CONTRACTS

States He Will Refuse to Approve Any Claim for Labor or Materials
if Work Started

Proceedings of the board of county commissioners for the meeting held July 22:

The board met in adjourned session on Wednesday, July 22 at 2 p. m. All members present.

J. Wilbur Van Evera headed a large delegation from Crosby, Ironton, Deerwood and surrounding country protesting against the small amount of road construction in that locality on comparison with other parts of the county during the past three years. A spirited discussion followed during which differences were ironed out.

Mr. Van Evera had spent much time and effort in gathering the data under discussion and should have the thanks of all citizens who are interested in the cost of road construction and maintenance. Mr. Lowey contended that if road expenditures for a number of years had been looked over it would be found that all parts of the county were fairly taken care of. Excessive road maintenance costs were discussed with the opinion apparently prevailing that these costs could be greatly reduced by motor power. The delegation was particularly insistent on having an application of tar on State Aid Road No. 5 from Deerwood to T. H. No. 18. No action was taken.

Geo. Hughes appeared before the board requesting the use of the tractor-grader outfit for the completion of a road in the Town of Ross Lake east to the Atkin county line. On motion the board is to view this road on July 24, 1931.

The following communication from County Attorney A. J. Sullivan was read:

At the June 6, 1931, meeting of the board, the county engineer submitted to me for my approval two resolutions calling for a second application of tar on the so-called Grand View road and Pequot Village road, and the other for the Lum Park road. In view of the fact that the work involved an expenditure of over $500.00 for each road, I stated that the work could not be done without calling for bids in compliance with the law. I was called from the meeting for a few minutes and later found that during my absence both resolutions were passed by the board.

On several occasions since the June meeting I have talked with the county engineer about the proposed work and each time informed him that the work could not be lawfully performed until bids had been called for.

Last Saturday, the engineer informed me that he had been instructed to tar Lum Park road by the board even though the doing of he work would be unlawful and illegal.

I do not object to the work being performed but I insist that it be done in accordance with the statute. The work proposed under these illegal resolutions calls for a second treatment of tar and should have been anticipated and included in the call for bids at the time the Merrifield road and other jobs were advertised for. It is reasonable to assume that this additional work if called for with the other work would have resulted in a saving in the total cost of all the work. If this work were overlooked through negligence or inadvertence that is no excuse for an illegal contract.

Work being performed under these circumstances does not merely constitute a technical violation of the law but signifies a studied intent to evade the spirit and letter of the law, and so I am notifying the J. W. Craig Company, which is to do the work that I will refuse to approve any claim for labor or materials and if the work is started after this notice to you, I will take steps to restrain the work being done until a legal contract is entered into.

I request that this letter be made a part of the minutes.

On motion of Commissioner Lowey seconded by Commissioner Johnstone, the auditor was directed to advertise for bids for 4600 gal. of bituminous material and for the application of same for the Lum Park road, known as Job 3118. Bids to be received at the August 15, 1931 meeting of the board at 4:30 p. m.

On motion, the board adjourned Tuesday, August 4 at 10 a. m.

Blackfoot Cradleboard Added to Historical Society's Collection

The Historical society's collection of Indian relics has been augmented by the gift of Mrs. Ida Crowley Forsythe of a Blackfoot cradleboard. It was a gift to Mrs. Forsythe from Miss Tate, a nurse of the N. P. staff, who will be remembered by many Brainerd people. The board is beautifully headed, eloquent of the fact that Indian mothers can lavish the same love and as much of it on their dusky babies as can mothers of whiter skin.

Miss Maude Huestis has made many gifts to the society, all of them of interest and value, none more so than her gift of yesterday—an enlarged copy of a fine old daguerreotype of her parents in their younger days when they came to Brainerd from their home in New Brunswick. Ben Huestis was, like his brother-in-law, John Nevers, a lumberman, and Miss Maude has included in her gifts some splendid photographs of the virgin timber of the region which was the scene of their extensive logging operations. Mrs. Huestis taught school in the old Sixth street school, and later conducted a private school in her own home on North 4th street. Miss Huestis rightly concludes that there is no more practical way of keeping green the memory of her parents in the minds of their townspeople than that of placing their pictures and belongings in the perpetual care of the society.

WEST OAK LAWN

The Willing Oak Leaves club met at the home of Mrs. George McKay Tuesday, July 14. Nearly all members were present and several visitors. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Miller, August 11. The club is holding its picnic at South Long Lake at the Sundie cottage August 2.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Newbert and son of Mankato were visitors at the John Strobel home one day last week.

Miss Hortense McKay made a trip to Minneapolis one day last week.

Mrs. Art Liners and Mrs. Edw. Laughton called on Mrs. Alva Tougas at St. Joseph's hospital Friday afternoon.

We are very sorry to know that Donald Eggurad has been very ill. He was taken to the hospital Friday evening and is some improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Laughton and son Joseph were callers at the Jess Britton home Tuesday evening.

Russel Murray and George McKay helped Jess Britton thresh Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Oak Lawn Boosters 4-H club held their picnic at South Long Lake Sunday, July 26. Everyone enjoyed themselves greatly. Oak Lawn is surely proud of their 4-H club girls. All those taking part at Brainerd won a prize. Hortense McKay and Vera Congdon a free trip to Little Falls. We understand also a trip to the State Fair. Keep it up girls, we are all proud of you. Here's hoping our boys do as well. Several are planning on staying at camp at the county fair to be held August 17 to 19.

Miss Ethel Fraser of St. Paul will teach at the West Oak Lawn school district No. 4 this coming school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hitt and family spent Sunday at the Drexler cottage on Gull Lake.

Mrs. John Strobel and two daughters spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Art Liners.

Jess Britton made a trip to South St. Paul with a load of stock Wednesday night.

Minnie Hagenbart, Ethel and Alice Borg were callers at the John Strobel and Edw. Laughton homes Sunday evening.

FALLS NOW CLAIMS NEW PRISON CAMP

Transcript Lets "Cat Out of Bag" in
Attempt to Deride Brainerd on
Camp Location

The Little Falls Transcript recently published the following editorial:

"Childish. And we never would have thought it of a Brainerd paper. The Dispatch of that city refers to Camp Ripley as 'near Brainerd.' All other papers state that the camp is located at Little Falls. St. Cloud at one time claimed our power dams, but we still have them and we intend to keep Camp Ripley. Bemidji will likely claim our new prison camp."

The Transcript's outburst regarding Camp Ripley is laughable of no consequence as that newspaper as well as this and others in the state receive their news through the channels of the news bureau at the camp with the instruction to give it a home angle but there is news in the statement "Bemidji will likely claim our new prison camp."

Presumably this statement is intended to announce in an indirect manner to the state that Little Falls has the federal prison camp definitely promised them.

Congressman Harold Knutson in a recent conference with local men promised his wholehearted support to Brainerd in gaining the camp.

First Rose Patent

Pretty Louise Wolf is shown holding a spray of the "New Dawn" climbing roses, and patent certificate No. 1, which is the first plant patent ever issued by the Federal Government patent office in Washington. The new rose was produced by Henry Rosenberg, New Brunswick, N. J., nursery owner, and the patentable feature of the plant is its ever-blooming character.

ARMY OFFICERS FETED

Over 50 to be Present at Banquet and
Celebration at Breezy
Point Tonight

Over 50 United States army officers from the national guard camp at Camp Ripley will be feted tonight at a mammoth banquet and celebration at Fawcett's Breezy Point Lodge on Big Pelican Lake. The celebration is given each year in honor of the visiting superior officers who are in charge of the summer national guard camp which is now situated at Camp Ripley. Brigadier-General Reed of Minneapolis, the officer in command of the camp will act as toastmaster for the affair. Colonel Ivan Bowen has been in charge of arrangements for the festivities and will serve as master of ceremonies for the entertainment.

LACHMAN-CARSON SHOW HERE MONDAY

Will Play in City for One Week Under
Auspices of Brainerd
Municipal Band

The Lachman-Carson Exposition Company, traveling on their own train of 20 circus cars, will present its attractions in Brainerd for one week starting Monday under auspices of the Brainerd Municipal Band.

The attractions consist of riding devices and shows. Captain Dan Riley's circus side show will feature an act of seven lions in a steel cage.

Another of the attractions is "Flo Jones Frolics of 1931," a colorful minstrel show with orchestra.

STONY BROOK

Miss Myrtle Moberg spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Miss Gladys Aas.

Among those who attended the Cass county tax payers meeting at Backus last week were Math Anderson, Olaf Olson, Chas. Hoffa, Henry Anderson and Adolph Lepfer.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zastrow and family of Brainerd were Sunday dinner guests at the Casin Dirks home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sward and son Warren called at the J. A. Johnson home Friday evening.

A new barn is being built to replace the one that burned down on the John Jacobs farm.

Mrs. James Bailey and daughter from Park Rapids spent the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Erickson.

Mrs. Ole Aas, Gladys Aas, Myrtle Moberg and Mrs. W. H. Cooper from near Pequot motored to Manhattan Beach Sunday to spend the afternoon with Mable Aas.

Mr. and Mrs. Casin Dirks, Martha and Margaret were Brainerd shoppers Saturday.

Martha Dirks stayed over night with her aunt, Mrs. Zastrow and returned home Sunday.

Miss Gladys Aas and Margaret Dirks motored to Nisawa Saturday evening.

The Norwegian Verterhien ladies aid will meet at the Otto Berg home August 4. A large attendance is hoped for.

TOURIST CAMP AT STATE FAIR

Many Plan Summer Outing With
Visit to Fair September
5 to 12

That many persons are planning to combine their summer outing with a visit to the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Livestock Show, September 5 to 12, is indicated by the number of requests for reservations at the free tourist camp at the Fair grounds, according to Leland Melrose of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, in charge.

Located in a beautiful grove adjacent to and with a gate opening into the Fair grounds proper, the camp is provided with all conveniences for living in the open, and is an attractive tenting spot for families and parties. The main entrance is from Snelling avenue, north of the Fair grounds gates.

All State Fair visitors are welcome to avail themselves of the camp facilities, and to insure accommodation, reservations may be made by application to Mr. Melrose at the Farm Bureau offices in the Old Capitol, St. Paul.

The free tourist camp is one of several tented villages that will spring up at the State Fair. An attraction of the Boy Scout Camp will be a real Indian village with native tipis. The second annual Boy Scout Camp and Indian Village will be conducted by Region Ten, comprised of Scouts of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, eastern Montana and northwestern Wisconsin. There will be demonstrations of whistle drills, fire by friction, first aid, tower construction and signaling, rope making, baking bread on a stick and other Boy Scout activities. Indians in native dress will appear in tribal dances and ceremonies.

Another prominent educational feature of the Fair will be the Farm Boys' Camp, where two farm boys from each Minnesota county who have made outstanding records in 4-H club work will live during Fair week.

TO DECIDE WHAT COMPRISES BLOCK

"What constitutes a block?" Municipal Judge J. H. Warner will be called upon to decide this question when the hearing of Fred Fleischer and Herman Krueger comes before him Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Fire department officials complained that the two entered the block where fire apparatus was stationed at a fire July 18 near the saw mill in northeast Brainerd.

The location of the mill is in un-platted property.

The defendants plead not guilty, stating they did not know the fire truck was there.

Ben Huestis was, like his brother-in-law, John Nevers, a lumberman, and Miss Maude has included in her gifts some splendid photographs of the virgin timber of the region which was the scene of their extensive logging operations. Mrs. Huestis taught school in the old Sixth street school, and later conducted a private school in her own home on North 4th street. Miss Huestis rightly concludes that there is no more practical way of keeping green the memory of her parents in the minds of their townspeople than that of placing their pictures and belongings in the perpetual care of the society.

WEST OAK LAWN

The Willing Oak Leaves club met at the home of Mrs. George McKay Tuesday, July 14. Nearly all members were present and several visitors. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Miller, August 11. The club is holding its picnic at South Long Lake at the Sundie cottage August 2.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Newbert and son of Mankato were visitors at the John Strobel home one day last week.

Miss Hortense McKay made a trip to Minneapolis one day last week.

Mrs. Art Liners and Mrs. Edw. Laughton called on Mrs. Alva Tougas at St. Joseph's hospital Friday afternoon.

We are very sorry to know that Donald Eggard has been very ill. He was taken to the hospital Friday evening and is some improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Laughton and son Joseph were callers at the Jess Britton home Tuesday evening.

Russel Murray and George McKay helped Jess Britton thresh Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Oak Lawn Boosters 4-H club held their picnic at South Long Lake Sunday, July 26. Everyone enjoyed themselves greatly. Oak Lawn is surely proud of their 4-H club girls. All those taking part at Brainerd won a prize.

Hortense McKay and Vera Congdon a free trip to Little Falls. We understand also a trip to the State Fair. Keep it up girls, we are all proud of you. Here's hoping our boys do as well. Several are planning on staying at camp at the county fair to be held August 17 to 19.

Miss Ethel Fraser of St. Paul will teach at the West Oak Lawn school district No. 4 this coming school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hitt and family spent Sunday at the Drexler cottage on Gull Lake.

Mrs. John Strobel and two daughters spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Art Liners.

Jess Britton made a trip to South St. Paul with a load of stock Wednesday night.

Minnie Hagenbart, Ethel and Alice Borg were callers at the John Strobel and Edw. Laughton homes Sunday evening.

FALLS NOW CLAIMS NEW PRISON CAMP

Transcript Lets "Cat Out of Bag," in Attempt to Deride Brainerd on
Camp Location

The Little Falls Transcript recently published the following editorial:

"Childish. And we never would have thought it of a Brainerd paper. The Dispatch of that city refers to Camp Ripley as 'near Brainerd.' All other papers state that the camp is located at Little Falls. St. Cloud at one time claimed our power dams, but we still have them and we intend to keep Camp Ripley. Bemidji will likely claim our new prison camp."

The Transcript's outburst regarding Camp Ripley is laughable of no consequence as that newspaper as well as this and others in the state receive their news through the channels of the news bureau at the camp with the instruction to give it a home angle but there is news in the statement "Bemidji will likely claim our new prison camp."

Presumably this statement is intended to announce in an indirect manner to the state that Little Falls has the federal prison camp definitely promised them.

Congressman Harold Knutson in a recent conference with local men promised his wholehearted support to Brainerd in gaining the camp.

First Rose Patent

Pretty Louise Wolf is shown holding a spray of the "New Dawn" climbing roses, and patent certificate No. 1, which is the first plant patent ever issued by the Federal Government patent office in Washington. The new rose was produced by Henry Rosenberg, New Brunswick, N. J., nursery owner, and the patentable feature of the plant is its ever-blooming character.

ARMY OFFICERS FETED

Over 50 to be Present at Banquet and
Celebration at Breezy
Point Tonight

Over 50 United States army officers from the national guard camp at Camp Ripley will be feted tonight at a mammoth banquet and celebration at Fawcett's Breezy Point Lodge on Big Pelican Lake. The celebration is given each year in honor of the visiting superior officers who are in charge of the summer national guard camp which is now situated at Camp Ripley.

Brigadier-General Reed of Minneapolis, the officer in command of the camp will act as toastmaster for the affair. Colonel Ivan Bowen has been in charge of arrangements for the festivities and will serve as master of ceremonies for the entertainment.

LACHMAN-CARSON SHOW HERE MONDAY

Will Play in City for One Week Under
Auspices of Brainerd
Municipal Band

The Lachman-Carson Exposition Company, traveling on their own train of 20 circus cars, will present its attractions in Brainerd for one week starting Monday under auspices of the Brainerd Municipal Band.

The attractions consist of riding devices and shows. Captain Dan Riley's circus side show will feature an act of seven lions in a steel cage.

Another of the attractions is "Flo Jones Frolics of 1931," a colorful minstrel show with orchestra.

STONY BROOK

Miss Myrtle Moberg spent Saturday evening and Sunday with Miss Gladys Aas.

Among those who attended the Cass county tax payers meeting at Backus last week were Math Anderson, Olaf Olson, Chas. Hoffa, Henry Anderson and Adolph Leffer.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Zastrow and family of Brainerd were Sunday dinner guests at the Casin Dirks home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sword and son Warren called at the J. A. Johnson home Friday evening.

A new barn is being built to replace the one that burned down on the John Jacobs farm.

Mrs. James Bailey and daughter from Park Rapids spent the past week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Erickson.

Mrs. Ole Aas, Gladys Aas, Myrtle Moberg and Mrs. W. H. Cooper from near Pequot motored to Manhattan Beach Sunday to spend the afternoon with Mable Aas.

Mr. and Mrs. Casin Dirks, Martha and Margaret were Brainerd shoppers Saturday.

Martha Dirks stayed over night with her aunt, Mrs. Zastrow and returned home Sunday.

Miss Gladys Aas and Margaret Dirks motored to Nisswa Saturday evening.

The Norwegian Verterhien ladies aid will meet at the Otto Berg home August 4. A large attendance is hoped for.

TOURIST CAMP AT STATE FAIR

Many Plan Summer Outing With
Visit to Fair September
5 to 12

That many persons are planning to combine their summer outing with a visit to the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Livestock Show, September 5 to 12, is indicated by the number of requests for reservations at the free tourist camp at the Fair grounds, according to Leland Melrose of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, in charge.

Located in a beautiful grove adjacent to and with a gate opening into the Fair grounds proper, the camp is provided with all conveniences for living in the open, and is an attractive tenting spot for families and parties. The main entrance is from Snelling avenue, north of the Fair grounds gates.

All State Fair visitors are welcome to avail themselves of the camp facilities, and to insure accommodation, reservations may be made by application to Mr. Melrose at the Farm Bureau offices in the Old Capitol, St. Paul.

The free tourist camp is one of several tented villages that will spring up at the State Fair. An attraction of the Boy Scout Camp will be a real Indian village with native dances. The second annual Boy Scout Camp and Indian Village will be conducted by Region Ten, comprised of Scouts of Minnesota, North and South Dakota, eastern Montana and northwestern Wisconsin. There will be demonstrations of whistle drills, fire by friction, first aid, tower construction and signaling, rope making, baking bread on a stick and other Boy Scout activities. Indians in native dress will appear in tribal dances and ceremonies.

Another prominent educational feature of the Fair will be the Farm Boys' Camp, where two farm boys from each Minnesota county who have made outstanding records in 4-H club work will live during Fair week.

TO DECIDE WHAT COMPRISES BLOCK

"What constitutes a block?" Municipal Judge J. H. Warner will be called upon to decide this question when the hearing of Fred Fleischer and Herman Krueger comes before him Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Fire department officials complained that the two entered the block where fire apparatus was stationed at a fire July 18 near the saw mill in northeast Brainerd.

The location of the mill is in unplatted property.

The defendants plead not guilty, stating they did not know the fire truck was there.

Tale of the Wild and Woolly West By LEETE STONE

THERE is still a bit of it left, here and there in Nevada and other sparsely populated states—the old “Wild and Woolly West.” And that is why Jed Agard cast a mild brand of defiance in the direction of an irate and wealthy father, left Yale in his second year, and took up the long, long trail that leads to the tallman of adventure.

It was a take-back to pioneering ancestry, probably. Jed got sick of the softness of modern existence. He wrote his father quite an interesting letter just before he jumped ship. Agard Senior did not answer it, pretended to be in high dudgeon, and promptly stopped Jed's $250-a-month allowance.

The odd thing was, however, that Agard Senior had to take his handkerchief and wipe away a certain suspicious mist from his eyes as he read the letter. And in the privacy of their bedroom that night, he said to the statuesque, white-haired mother of Jed:

“Well, mother, it's just as well to let the boy think I'm sore. But I'm not! I'm sorta proud. What's college? I never had any. Let Jed learn to handle himself in a man's country for awhile. Let him fling about a little. Then I'll take him into the business—eh, mother?”

“William, he get's all his romantic notions from you. You two are as like as two peas,” That was Mrs. William Hamilton Agard's response.

So Jed Agard, unaware of this conciliatory attitude on the part of his parents, wound up after months of knocking about in the tiny tank town of Nevada known as Blue Cactus.

The town was really only a post office ministering to the needs of the great Montevideo horse ranch—what is generally known as a “dude ranch,” where some of the prettiest pieces of horsethresh are bred every year.

Jed walked in to see the big boss one day, opened the window at the side of the boss' desk, and said:

“Excuse me! Can you see that two-inch square of paper stuck on that bush—right over there?” he pointed with a lean, agile finger, “it's about a hundred feet from here. Just watch it!”

Quite undramatically Jed drew a beautiful six-gun of the latest model from under his armpit, aimed the function of a second, fired—and the bit of paper was nonexistent on the bush.

“Nuff sed!” The boss stuck out a big paw. “I need a man who can shoot like that. You're hired. We'll call you the Montevideo deputy sheriff. If you like. There's been some horses stolen lately. I want you to get the guys that are doing it. Get me?”

“I'm your man,” Jed quietly drawled. “I sure need the money. Haven't eaten for a day and a half. Show me some cuts.”

Jed was a mighty busy man for a few months after that. He made good in a manner that would have pleased his dad. Single-handed he brought to camp the two rustlers who had been preying on the ranch. A much more difficult achievement and one which pleased his boss even more; he taught that same boss' daughter, home from New York, to ride an English saddle. The girl was a good Western rider; but knew nothing of the delicate balance and technique of the English hunting saddle. Jed had been brought up on one. He knew. He could teach. Fortunately, or unfortunately, he fell in love with this beautiful girl in the process of teaching her to ride an English saddle.

“Listen, six-gun sheriff! I'm taking the limited tomorrow back to New York city. I hate to leave . . . my English saddle.”

“It's true, big boy. And I hate it. On account of you. I like you, too. . . . Will you take me to the train?”

“Oh, d—n, yes!” Depth of sadness in his tone.

The next afternoon as Jed was ushering Gwen to her drawing-room apartment on No. 9 Limited for New York, his hands laden with bags, she grasped his elbow and whispered:

“Send word to dad. Jed, that you're staying on this train to protect the passengers. That sleek man up front is Cairo Jim. His specialty is holding up trains. He was pointed out to me awhile ago. He's here for a purpose, Jed. Believe me, won't you?”

“Always believe you, sweetheart. Watch little Jed.”

So it happened that at about 10:30 that night when all the pullman curtains were hung and the passengers peacefully sleeping, Cairo Jim went to work gathering up the watches and purses that reposed under pillows. Cairo was a quiet worker. It was not until he had successfully looted three cars and was just about to slip off the train at a flag stop that he encountered Jed Agard, deputy sheriff extraordinary, and faced the famous armpit six-gun that had shattered a slip of paper at one hundred feet.

All of which explains why Jed had to take a prisoner to police headquarters in New York before he dragged a protesting young woman up to his father's office, where he said to Agard, Senior, quite belligerently:

“This is the girl I'm going to marry. Get me! And I want you to give me a job and start that allowance again.”

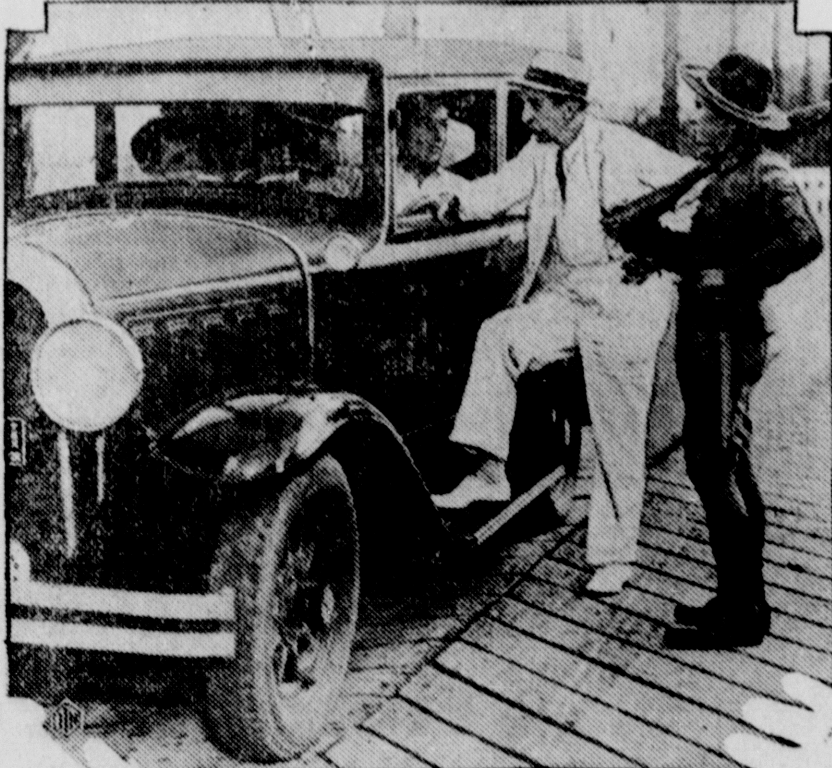

One child was killed, another so seriously wounded he is not expected to live, and three others badly wounded was the toll of a machine gun battle between New York gangster-beer runners. The children were mowed down by machine gun bullets when a mob of hoodlums attempted to kill the members of a rival gang. Photo at left shows excited crowds milling about the spot in Harlem where the gunmen shot down the children. At right is picture of 3-year-old Michael Bevilacqua and the carriage in which he was sleeping when he was shot. He is dying.

TWO PLANES THAT RACED OVER SEA

The first transatlantic air race in history started when two planes took off from Floyd Bennett Airport, New York, one behind the other at only a few minutes' interval. The monoplane (above), piloted by Russell Boardman (left) and John Polando (both inserted), was the first to take to the air. The two made their objective, Istanbul, Turkey, close to scheduled time. The Clyde Pangborn (left) and Hugh Herndon, Jr. (both inserted), plane landed in Wales and then continued to Croydon Airport, England. After a short rest they flew to Moscow via Berlin and today left for Siberia.

“Alfalfa Bill” Takes Command

Governor William (“Alfalfa Bill”) Murray, of Oklahoma, is shown questioning a Texan motorist after the Chief Executive arrived on the new toll bridge between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Texas, to take personal charge of his militia, stationed on the Oklahoma side in defiance of a Federal court injunction. Governor Murray, attended by a guardsman “protecting” the bridge, ordered the span closed in an attempt to make it free to motorists.

Lake at Glacier Foot

In the Swiss canton of Valais, at the foot of the great Aletsch glacier, will be found the beautiful little Lake Maclean, a dark-green expanse of water on which floating ice may be often seen. This little lake is nearly 8,000 feet above sea level and is formed by the glacier, which is 550 yards in length and 100 feet in depth.

Death of Apostle Peter

The Bible does not tell how the Apostle Peter met his death. It is due to tradition that the story of his crucifixion head downward has been so widely accepted. The only Bible reference to his death is found in John 21:18 and 19, which is couched in general terms with no definite explanation.

Tale of the Wild and Woolly West

By LEETE STONE

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
(WNU Service.)

THERE is still a bit of it left, here and there in Nevada and other sparsely populated states—the old "Wild and Woolly West." And that is why Jed Agard cast a mild brand of defiance in the direction of an irate and wealthy father, left Yale in his second year, and took up the long, long trail that leads to the tallman of adventure.

It was a take-back to pioneering ancestry, probably. Jed got sick of the softness of modern existence. He wrote his father quite an interesting letter just before he jumped ship. Agard Senior did not answer it, pretended to be in high dudgeon, and promptly stopped Jed's $250-a-month allowance.

The odd thing was, however, that Agard Senior had to take his handkerchief and wipe away a certain suspicious mist from his eyes as he read the letter. And in the privacy of their bedroom that night, he said to the statuesque, white-haired mother of Jed:

"Well, mother, it's just as well to let the boy think I'm sore. But I'm not! I'm sorta proud. What's college? I never had any. Let Jed learn to handle himself in a man's country for awhile. Let him fling about a little. Then I'll take him into the business—eh, mother?"

"William, he gets all his romantic notions from you. You two are as like as two peas." That was Mrs. William Hamilton Agard's response.

So Jed Agard, unaware of this conciliatory attitude on the part of his parents, wound up after months of knocking about in the tiny tank town of Nevada known as Blue Cactus.

The town was really only a post office ministering to the needs of the great Montevideo horse ranch—which is generally known as a "dude ranch," where some of the prettiest pieces of horseflesh are bred every year.

Jed walked in to see the big boss one day, opened the window at the side of the boss' desk, and said:

"Excuse me! Can you see that two-inch square of paper stuck on that bush—right over there?" he pointed with a lean, agile finger. "It's about a hundred feet from here. Just watch it!"

Quite undramatically Jed drew a beautiful six-gun of the latest model from under his armpit, aimed the fraction of a second, fired—and the bit of paper was nonexistent on the bush.

"Nuff said!" The boss stuck out a big paw. "I need a man who can shoot like that. You're hired. We'll call you the Montevideo deputy sheriff. If you like. There's been some horses stolen lately. I want you to get the guys that are doing it. Get me?"

"I'm your man," Jed quietly drawled. "I sure need the money. Haven't eaten for a day and a half. Show me some cash."

Jed was a mighty busy man for a few months after that. He made good in a manner that had pleased his dad. Single-handed he brought to camp the two rustlers who had been preying on the ranch. A much more difficult achievement and one which pleased his boss even more; he taught that same boss' daughter, home from New York, to ride an English saddle. The girl was a good Western rider; but knew nothing of the delicate balance and technique of the English hunting saddle. Jed had been brought up on one. He knew. He could teach. Fortunately, or unfortunately, he fell in love with this beautiful girl in the process of teaching her to ride an English saddle.

"Listen, six-gun sheriff! I'm taking the limited tomorrow back to New York city. I hate to leave . . . my English saddle."

"Ah, no! Gwen! You don't mean that. Can't let you go! Don't you know? . . . ah, Gwen!"

"It's true, big boy. And I hate it. On account of you. I like you, too. . . . Will you take me to the train?"

"Oh, d—n, yes!" Depth of sadness in his tone.

The next afternoon as Jed was ushering Gwen to her drawing-room apartment on No. 9 Limited for New York, his hands laden with bags, she grasped his elbow and whispered:

"Send word to dad, Jed, that you're staying on this train to protect the passengers. That sleek man up front is Cairo Jim. His specialty is holding up trains. He was pointed out to me awhile ago. He's here for a purpose, Jed. Believe me, won't you?"

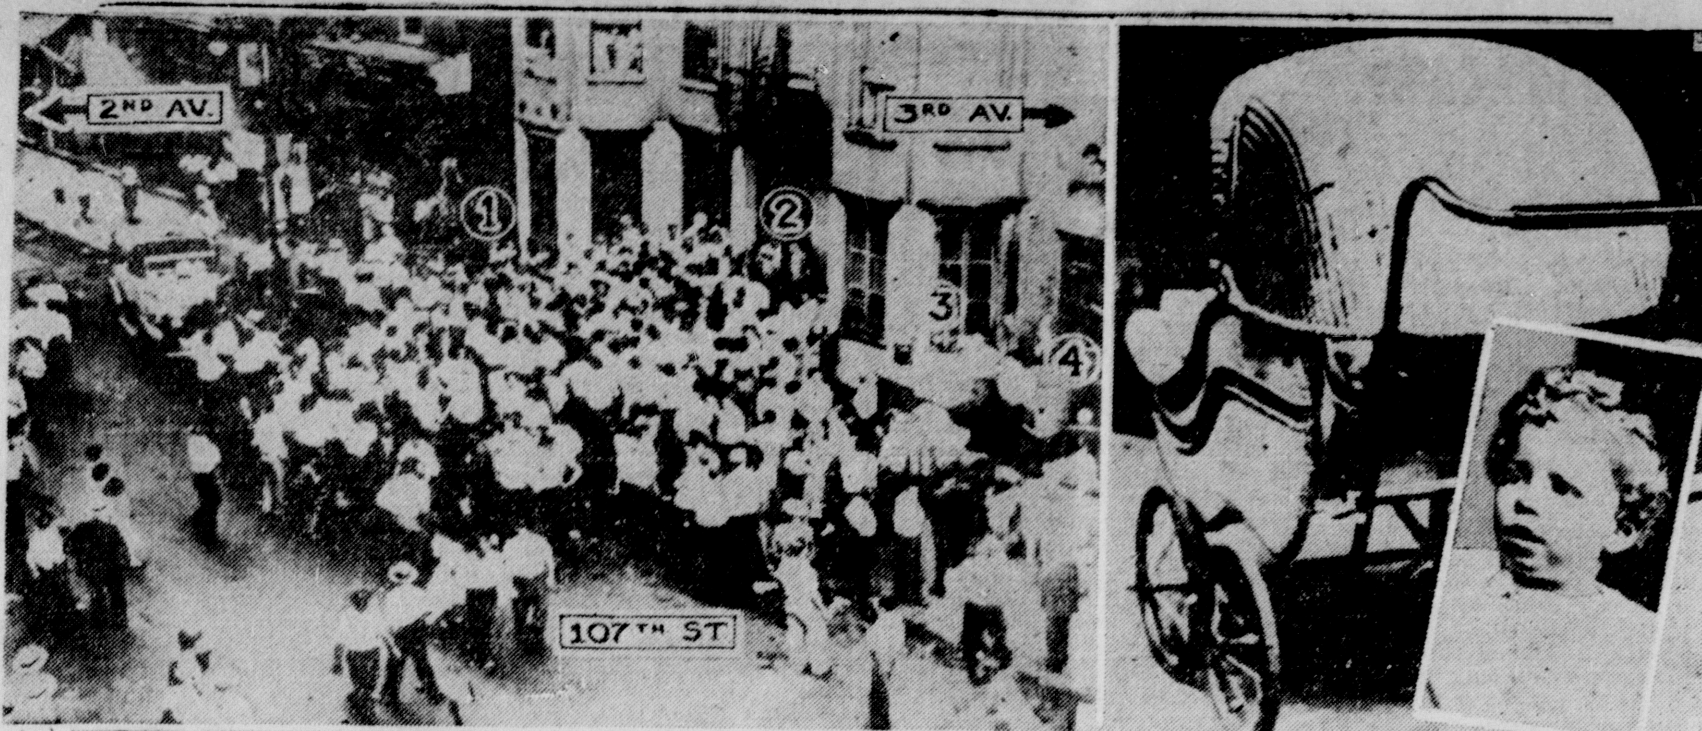

"Always believe you, sweetheart. Watch little Jed."

So it happened that at about 10:30 that night when all the pullman curtains were hung and the passengers peacefully sleeping, Cairo Jim went to work gathering up the watches and purses that reposed under pillows. Cairo was a quiet worker. It was not until he had successfully looted three cars and was just about to slip off the train at a flag stop that he encountered Jed Agard, deputy sheriff extraordinary, and faced the famous armpit six-gun that had shattered a slip of paper at one hundred feet.

All of which explains why Jed had to take a prisoner to police headquarters in New York before he dragged a protesting young woman up to his father's office, where he said to Agard Senior, quite belligerently:

"This is the girl I'm going to marry. Get me! And I want you to give me a job and start that allowance again."

CHILDREN VICTIMS OF NEW YORK BEER FEUD

One child was killed, another so seriously wounded he is not expected to live, and three others badly wounded was the toll of a machine gun battle between New York gangster-beer runners. The children were mowed down by machine gun bullets when a mob of hoodlums attempted to kill the members of a rival gang. Photo at left shows excited crowds milling about the spot in Harlem where the gunmen shot down the children. At right is picture of 3-year-old Michael Bevilacqua and the carriage in which he was sleeping when he was shot. He is dying.

TWO PLANES THAT RACED OVER SEA

The first transatlantic air race in history started when two planes took off from Floyd Bennett Airport, New York, one behind the other at only a few minutes' interval. The monoplane (above), piloted by Russell Boardman (left) and John Polando (both inserted), was the first to take to the air. The two made their objective, Istanbul, Turkey, close to scheduled time. The Clyde Pangborn (left) and Hugh Herndon, Jr. (both inserted), plane landed in Wales and then continued to Croydon Airport, England. After a short rest they flew to Moscow via Berlin and today left for Siberia.

"Alfalfa Bill" Takes Command

Governor William ("Alfalfa Bill") Murray, of Oklahoma, is shown questioning a Texan motorist after the Chief Executive arrived on the new toll bridge between Durant, Okla., and Denison, Texas, to take personal charge of his militia, stationed on the Oklahoma side in defiance of a Federal court injunction. Governor Murray, attended by a guardsman "protecting" the bridge, ordered the span closed in an attempt to make it free to motorists.

Lake at Glacier Foot

In the Swiss canton of Valais, at the foot of the great Aletsch glacier, will be found the beautiful little Lake Maelen, a dark-green expanse of water on which floating ice may be often seen. This little lake is nearly 8,000 feet above sea level and is formed by the glacier, which is 550 yards in length and 100 feet in depth.

Death of Apostle Peter

The Bible does not tell how the Apostle Peter met his death. It is due to tradition that the story of his crucifixion head downward has been so widely accepted. The only Bible reference to his death is found in John 21:18 and 19, which is couched in general terms with no definite explanation.
